Forward

For many decades, we have been doing research in the use of different dasas given in Parashari and Jaimini texts. While now some of the Jaimini dasas have come into effective use, the nakshatra dasas of Parashara needed extensive and original research to discover effective predictive tools.

I had asked N.K.Sharma and Jhanjhi to do some work on Yagini Dasha many years ago and they produced a book which has been in use now.

The fascination of Yagini dasha is that it seems to be the best of dasas for timing events even in cases where the uncertainty of birth time with slight error can give degrees of Moon which would need rectification. In the case of Yagini dasha, with the unrectified degrees of Moon, events can still be timed with remarkable closeness.

A controversy arose in the case of Yagini mainly because of its shortness it being a dasha of only thirty six years. Life is not a story of exact replication of events of life of the first thirty six years in the next thirty six years. How is this riddle to be unravelled?

In a research group of Bharatiya Vidyabhawan, I discussed this with students and suggested many approaches which were:

1. If the first cycle of Yagini Dasha starts with Janma Nakshatra or the birth constellation, the second one could possibly start with Lagna or Sun etc. It would then give us different starting points for each of the cycles of Yagini Dasha. Will it solve the problem?
2. Could we follow the Chara Dasha pattern and keep moving in Yagini Dasha in a systematic and chronological order as the nakshatras are spread on the zodiac? May be this could solve the problem of not repeating mechanically the events of the first thirty six years of one's life.
3. The third method could be repeating the order of Yagini Dasha exactly as it is but changing the starting point of the second and third cycles from the next nakshatra so as not to the same horoscopic pattern for interpretation. This needs explaining. If in the case of a person born with Chitra Nakshatra, the starting dasha will be Mangala, next Pingala, Dhanya, Bhramari, Bhadrika, Ulka, Siddha and Sankata ending with the cycle ending with Uttarashada.

The next cycle could begin with Sharvan which is in Makara and therefore the changed starting point could be the pivotal point for the interpretation of the horoscope. It thus will follow the Chara dasha method of Jaimini retaining the nakshatra basis for astrological readings.

Different students worked on it and came out with their own researches some of which have been published in the Journal of Astrology both in Hindi and English.

Then one day Mr. V.P.Goel told me and the class that he had solved the riddle and briefly it was:

1. Yagini Dasha will have to be progressed and the starting point for each cycle will have to be different to avoid mechanical repetition of the readings for the first cycle. It was logical and he demonstrated with some horoscopes both in the class room and at my place.
2. The one major problem in Yagini Dasha is that with only eight Yagini it can cover only twenty four nakshatras out of twenty seven, leaving out three or necessitating the clubbing of the three with other nakshatras to make it all a harmonious scheme. Mr. Goel solved this problem by taking up the first three nakshatras, Ashwini, Bharani and Krittika and clubbing them with Poorva Bhadrapada, Uttara Bhadrapada and then Revati.
3. The next stage was more challenging. It was to test on given horoscopes, logically and systematically known events and explain them applying the normal principles of interpretation. He did it in many cases and particularly in mine in which he showed how in the year 2000 the progressed dasha in my case would reach the eighth house of serious sickness. This appealed and off and on I tried this method and found it working and explaining very cogently the event that happened.
4. Now came the final stage of "blind testing" when I gave him some horoscopes and asked him to explain the nature or hint at it. In a given year, I gave to him the horoscope of an Indian living in USA to whom I had given major predictions at a critical stage in his life after tracing some past events through my method of composite approach. Mr. Goel located the areas affected in the horoscope and the achievement or agony of the periods concerned. He has given that horoscope at the end of the chapter entitled "Classroom Testing".

I have seen the manuscript of Mr. Goel and have suggested to him that he should include some chapter illustrating

1. The calculation of Yagini Dasha
2. The method of progression which is the soul of this research.
3. How in the progressed horoscope the changed Lagna gives a different starting point with planets changing their placement and ownership.
4. In writing a book we have to keep in mind the three level of students we come across, the beginner, the middle level and the advanced ones. The beginner should be able to feel confident that he can handle Yagini Dasha with confidence, the middle level student should feel that he himself could proceed with his own researches on the lines given in the book and the advanced student should feel rewarded with the addition of new dasha with its potent uses to his repertoire of predictive techniques.

I am happy that with this book the riddle of Yagini Dasha is solved very satisfactorily and there can be improvements on this research which is a major breakthrough. It is necessary to state so here because the late Hardeo Sharma Trivedi never used Yagini Dasha because he thought that the second and third cycles of this dasha would lead to mechanical interpretation. But I know of many Garhwali astrologers who use Yagini Dasha invariably and prefer it to any other dasha for their major predictions. I also know that they have some secret technique of progressing it which they have not revealed like what is known as the Paramayu dasha of Kumaon (Nainital and Almora areas) which is used only to calculate the span of life. The Paramayu dasha works well, resembles Vimshottari dasha but its calculation remains a secret even now.

Similarly, if one riddle of Yagini Dasha is solved, as has happened in this research, we can proceed confidently to its multifarious uses and application to many aspects of life.

First cycle

1. Mangala MOON
2. Pingala SUN
3. Dhanya JUPITER
4. Bhra/Mar MARS
5. Bhadrika MERCURY
6. Ulka SATURN
7. Siddha VENUS

8. Sankata RAHU(KETU)

Second cycle

1. Mangala MOON
2. Pingala SUN
3. Dhanya JUPITER
4. Bhra/Mar MARS
5. Bhadrika MERCURY
6. Ulka SATURN
7. Siddha VENUS
8. Sankata RAHU(KETU)

Third cycle

1. Mangala MOON
2. Pingala SUN
3. Dhanya JUPITER
4. Bhra/Mar MARS
5. Bhadrika MERCURY
6. Ulka SATURN
7. Siddha VENUS
8. Sankata RAHU(KETU)

This will remain constant in all cases. But it is seen according to nakshatras the change that will have to be made is as follows.

1. Ardra Mangala
2. Punarvasu Pingala
3. Pushya Dhanya
4. Ashlesha
5. Magha
6. P.Phalguni
7. U.Phalguni
8. Hasta
9. Chitra
10. Swati
11. Vishakha
12. Anuradha
13. Jyestha
14. Moola
15. P.Ashadha
16. Uttarashadha
17. Shravana
18. Dhanista

19. Shatabhisha
20. P.Bhadrapad (Ashwini)
21. U Bhadrapad (Bharani)
22. Revati (Krittika)

NOTE: The jump here is of three nakshatra, Ashwini, Bharani and Krittika. They are being skipped because they have been bracketted with other nakshatras in this scheme of progression. In Yagini dasha, only twenty four nakshatras can be accomodated with three becoming superfluous apparently. But these three cannot be overlooked and omitted. Bracketting them with other nakshatras, solves the problem as can be seen in the illustrated examples of this book.

Having done that now follow the uninterrupted scheme thus.

23. Rohini
24. Mrighshira Sankata

Keep this table before and mark your Janma nakshatra and proceed as given here. For instance if you are born in Mrighshira nakshatra the birth has taken place in Sankata (but Mrighshira). After you have completed thirty six years of your life you will again get Sankata but it will start from Hasta. Treating Hasta as you progressed horoscope proceed to analyse the events. Here, those who know Jaimini Chara dasha will notice the progression very orderly and in keeping with the changing hues and colours of life's changed pattern and kaleidoscope.

Introduction

This book is the result of sustained probing of the classical principles laid out in Brihat Parashar Hora Shashtra, Mansagri etc. The credit to develop the probing minds goes to Institute of Astrology and Sh. K.N.Rao, the fountain head of new researches and modern application of Astrology.

Our research class in the semester Jan. 2002 took up Yagini Dasha and its application in timing of events. The challenge was to crack the riddle of progression of Yagini in different cycles of Yagini. The method presented in this book is the outcome of efforts of the author, the seed of this inquiry was sown by Sh. Rao.

Our Sages have commanded that Vimshotari and Yagini dasha have universal application and should be used in Kaliyug. Vimshotari have a full cycle of 120 years in nine nakshatras. One cycle of Yagini is almost one third of Vimshotari dasha. All 27 nakshatras contribute 123 years of Yagini dasha. Yagini is thus micro Vimshotari dasha and delineation is to be done with reference to nakshatra lord.

Each Yagini originate from three or four nakshatras. Three nakshatras of each yagini cover all twelve signs in navamshas. Three yoginis Bhramari, Bhadrika and Ulka originate from four nakshatras. Two nakshatras have similar navamsha signs and are clubbed together which fulfill the cyclic continuity of the dasha scheme. It is therefore important to mention nakshatra along with yagini.

Progressing the Yagini periods with the Vimshotari nakshatra lords is the key to the analysis of Yagini. It is equally applicable to divisional charts and transit.

The book is amply illustrated with examples.

I am grateful to Sh. K.N.Rao for his guidance. Most of the example chart have been taken from books of Sh.Rao.

My prayers to Lord MAHADEVA who is the giver of yagini dasha.

I sincerely hope that this book will be of help to all lovers of Astrology.

Classical

Classical texts Brihat Parashara Hora Shashtra and Mansagari prescribe eight YOGINIS. These yoginis have individual lords and Dasha periods from one year to eight years to make total of thirty-six years in one cycle of operation.

The sequence of operation of these Yoginis, the Mahadasha period and the dasha lords are as under.

Table - I

Sr. No	Yoginis	Dasha Lord	Dasha Period
1.	Mangla	Moon	1 Year
2.	Pingla	Sun	2 Years
3.	Dhanya	Jupiter	3 Years
4.	Bhramari	Mars	4 Years
5.	Bhadrika	Mercury	5 Years
6.	Ulka	Saturn	6 Years
7.	Siddha	Venus	7 Years
8.	Sankata	Rahu	8 Years

Starting Dasha

Yogini dasha ruling at the time of epoch is based on the Nakshatra (Star) occupied by Moon. The Nakshatra number is counted from Ashwini, which is taken as one. Add three to the Nakshatra number so arrived. Divide the sum by eight. Ignore the quotient. The remainder obtained represent the Yogini dasha operating at the time of epoch. The remainder number is the Sr. No. of Table I. Abhijit nakshatra is not taken into account.

Balance of Dasha at birth

Full Dasha period of a yogini spans one Nakshatra. The degrees remaining to be traversed by Moon in the Nakshatra occupied is the proportional balance of Dasha at birth/epoch.

Order of Dasha

The yoginis follows the sequence given in above table I. After one cycle of thirty-six years, the sequence is repeated in the same order.

Sub periods

Major periods of each yogini Dasha is further divided into eight sub periods corresponding to eight yoginis. All eight yoginis divide each major period in proportion to their individual major period. The first sub period belong to major Dasha lord and other periods follow in given order.

A simple rule for finding the duration of sub period of P yogini in major period of Q yogini is;

Sub period = Dasha years of Q x Dasha period of P x 10 are the number of days of sub period.

Calculation Example

1. Dasha at birth — Moon is in Cancer at 12 degree 40 min. It is in Pushya Nakshatra. Pushya is 8th Nakshatra from Ashwini. Add 3 to 8, which gives 11. Divide 11 by 8. Remainder is 3. Third Dasha is of Dhanya and is the Dasha at birth.
2. Balance at birth — Pushya Nakshatra is from 3 deg. 20 min. to 16 deg. 40 min. The span is 13 deg. 20 min. From 12 deg. 40 min. moon is yet to cover 4 deg. 0 min. to reach end of Pushya. Dasha period of Dhanya is 3 years.
Therefore balance of Dhanya will be 4 deg. 0 min. multiplied by three (Full period of Dasha) and divided by 13 deg. 20 min. This is converted into years, Months and days to give 10 Months 24 Days as balance of Dhanya Dasha.
3. Order of Dasha — Dasha at birth is Dhanya and the order is Dhanya, Bhramari, Bhadrika, Ulka, Siddha, Sankata, Mangla, Pingla and again Dhanya.
4. Sub periods — Suppose we want to know Siddha sub period in Ulka major. Multiply 6 by 7, which give 42. Again multiply it by 10. Result 420 is the number of days or one year two Months as the sub period of Siddha in Ulka major period and vice-versa.

Research

One complete cycle of yogini Dasha is of thirty-six years only. It is very useful in narrowing down the period in timing of events. Compared to Vimshottari Dasha it has the maximum period of any one dasha as eight years against twenty years in vimshottari.

A person can have three or more cycles of yogini in his lifetime. The results experienced are not similar in two periods of same yogini. The birth horoscope is fixed and so are the yoginis.

Sages have connected these yoginis to nakshatras. There is a deeper meaning to this proposition. Vimshottari Dasha is also based on nakshatras and have same Dasha lord as the Nakshatra lord. In yogini the Dasha lord is different from the Nakshatra lord. Table II gives the nakshatras and the yogini associated with them along with their lords.

Table II

Nakshatra	Lord	Yogini	Lord
Ashwini	Ketu	BhraMari	Mars
Bharani	Venus	Bhadrika	Mercury

P. Bhadrapad	Jupiter	BhraMari	Mars
U. Bhadrapad	Saturn	Bhadrika	Mercury
Revati	Mercury	Ulka	Saturn

There are 24 yogini in three cycles and 27 nakshatras. Sages have directed that yoginis operate in the order given in Table I. If we see Table II, we note that Revati gives Ulka dasha and next Dasha should be of Siddha. The nakshatra Ashwini which is next in order gives BharaMari. Rohini is the next Nakshatra giving Siddha Dasha.

The problem is to club twenty four yoginis with twenty seven nakshatras. This can be solved by comMonly sharing three nakshatras with other three nakshatras contributing same Yognis. Three nakshatras Ashwini, Bharani and Krtika are dubbed with Poorvabhadrapad, Uttarabhadrapad and Revati respectively. A revised table for the progression of Yogini Dasha is now achieved and is as under:

Nakshatra	Yogini
Ardra	Mangla
Punarvasu	Pingla
Pushya	Dhanya
Ashlesha	BhraMari
Magha	Bhadrika
Poorvaphalgundi	Ulka
Uttaraphalgundi	Siddha

Note the jump from Revati to Rohini. The order of yogini is now maintained.

Progress Lagna

Progress Lagna concept is the key to this analysis. To arrive at the progress Lagna we must keep the following points in mind;

Research

Predict Effectively through Yagini Dasha

1. The progress Lagna is the sign which contain the nakshatra contributing the yagini dasha running.
2. All planets remain as they are in the birth chart.
3. When nakshatra contributing the yagini dasha is Dwipada or Tripada, the progress Lagna will change within the duration of dasha. The time of change of progress Lagna is in proportion to the longitude of nakshatra in the signs. This have been clearly stated in the respective chapters of each affected dasha.

Full Example

We now illustrate a example for full method of progression.

A person is born with Moon in scorpio 16 deg. 12 min. and date of birth is 20th Dec. 1900.

Refer to table III, We get that person is born in Bhramari yagini dasha. The balance of Bhramari at longitude of 16 deg. 00 min. is 0Y 02M 12 D. The difference between Moon at birth and nearest longitude in table is 12M. Now refer to table IV and look under Bharamari for 12 M. We find the part as 22 days. Since the longitude of moon is more than 16 deg. the balance will be less for 16 deg. 12 min. Subtracting 22 days from 0Y 02M 12 D, we get 0Y 01M 20days as balance of Bhramari dasha at birth. The nakshatra occupied by Moon is Anuradha.

The complete three cycles of yagini with nakshatra and the progress Lagna is drawn for this example.

Another table (Table V) is the sub periods in Yaginis. The special feature is the change of progress Lagna for dwipada and tripadi nakshatras. The sub period bringing this change is Marked.

Formula

Yogini Dasha period should be written with the Nakshatra contributing it. For example the three periods of Sankata are Sankata/Mrigshira, Sankata/Hasta and Sankata/U. Ashadha. Starting Dasha is written with its Nakshatra. The order of Dasha and Nakshatra is followed as per yogini Dasha chart. The lord of Nakshatra is noted and the results are delineated.

The sign containing the Nakshatra of which dasha is running is the Progressed Lagna for the duration of yogini Dasha. This progressed chart is analysed for the particular Dasha period. For Nakshatras falling in two signs, the sign becoming progressed Lagna is arrived by rule of three.

This Nakshatra lord and progress Lagna are given the prime importance. Three reference points are created and analysed.

1. Condition of Nakshatra lord in birth chart.
 2. Condition of Nakshatra lord in progress chart.
 3. Relation of Dasha lord from the placement of Nakshatra lord in progress chart.

For Sankata Dasha Ketu Is also considered

When Rahu or Ketu become Nakshatra lord, they act as their despositor and the planet in conjunction with them

In any Dasha the sub period of Nakshatra lord generally fulfil the promise.

Any planet influenced by both Dasha and Nakshatra lord is potent to deliver the promise in its sub period in any Dasha.

Eleventh house is house of expansion. Lord of eleventh and any planet in eleventh is important. Also watch for eleventh house of birth becoming Lagna in progress chart or Birth Lagna falling in eleventh house.

The placement of birth Lagna In progress chart indicate the type of results.

Divisional Charts

We have stated that Yagini dasha is micro Vimshotari dasha. The ruling yagini dasha highlight the promise and timing of the events occurring during the dasha period and seen in progress chart. However the progression chart promises can not supersede the promise of birth chart.

Divisional charts highlight a particular area of the horoscope. Yagini dasha equally confirms the event in the divisional chart. In any divisional chart, the Lagna/Lagna lord, the related house/house lord and the karaka are capable to deliver the results. If they are well placed and connected they give positive results and vice versa.

The star lord of the running yagini is examined in the corresponding divisional chart. Favourable condition of star lord from above factors promise favourable results. The event is by making the progress Lagna as divisional chart Lagna.

The analysis in divisional chart is explained with practical examples.

Chapter - 13Transit

Sage Parasher have directed in Chapter 3, Verse 6 of Brihat Parasher Hora Shastra that "From the condition of Planets and ascendent joining and departing from each other are deduced the persons good and bad effects". This fully applies to the transit results of planets. Traditionally transit is seen from the Ascendent and natal Moon. Both these positions are fixed and so are the delineation for each round of the planets. However the mutual placement of planets in transit modify their results.

In the present scheme of progression of ascendent with the Yagini dasha, we can apply the transit in progress chart. Like birth ascendent and Moon we have two progressed reference points and are:

1. Progress Ascendent or Lagna. It is the progress chart recasted with changing the Lagna and keeping all planets as in the natal.
2. The placement of Star lord in the Progress chart. This is akin to the position of Moon used in traditional transit.

In short we formulate that the transit is to be applied from progressed Lagna and the star lord contributing the Yagini Dasha.

Double transit of Saturn and Jupiter is to be seen to arrive at the time of fructification of any event promised in the chart.

SATURN

Saturn in transit will influence by conjunction or aspect within one year of event,

- a. The concerned house or lord from progress Lagna or
- b. The concerned house or lord from the Star lord contributing the Yagini dasha.

JUPITER

Jupiter like Saturn will influence these points but within six Months of the event.

SUN

Sun will influence these points but within one Months of the event. For transit of Sun we include the nakshatra lord also.

MOON

- Moon will connect these points within three days of the event. A step by step approach to closely time the event is now outlined.
- Ascertain the house and lord of the event from progress Lagna and the star lord.
 - Check that the event is promised in birth and progress chart. The progress chart can not provide beyond the promise of birth chart.
 - Arrive at the sub period or antara capable to deliver the promise.
 - Now see the transit of Saturn. Note the date when Saturn gets connected to the house/lord under examination.
 - Bring the time closer by noting the transit of Jupiter in a similar way as done for Saturn.
 - Now mark the signs which are related to house/lords. These rashif are the months of transit of Sun. A good judgement is required to be made to pinpoint the month. We can take help from Parashar guidelines as given at the start of this chapter.
 - Finally apply the transit of Moon for close timing.

This method of transit can be used as a supplement to the traditional transit on natal Lagna and Moon. It gives a double confirmation of the events.

This is now illustrated by applying it on example horoscopes.

Example I (Child birth)
