Mantra : A lively conglomerate of words sounds

शब्दो नित्यः आकाश गुणत्वात्

Which means a word is immortal due to element of 'Akash'. No word ever distorts, ends erased, hence it is immortal. The inventor of radio active waves and wireless, Marconi must have taken cue from ascetic Gemini's opinion verbatim due to which we can hear the words spoken thousands of miles away, in the same tone, without being changed or distorted. Not only this, we can even listen to the spoken words even after many years. All this implies that a word neither changes, nor distorts, hence it is immortal. Every second descends to us through other rays of the sky.

Scholars of Nyaya Shastra 'maintain that a word is a proven fact but which type of word they refer to? It is not the words that we speak out of fun, curiosity, conveyance, in hillarious moments or the words we use in our daily routine. It is not a lingua Franca. The word here referred, pertains to the words used in the Vedas (आपत वाक्यं शब्दः); that is the words uttered by Vedic 'Rishis' are taken as a testimony. The question naturally arises what is the, 'Apat Vakaya'? In short we can say that an 'apart Vakaya' is that which emerges out of our inquisitiveness, ability and contact. Such words are subdivided into two parts, viz., worldly and Vedic, Vedic utterance is regarded as if it has emanated from God's mouth that is -

वैदिकमीश्वरोक्तावात् सर्वमेव प्रमाणम्

hence mantras, in themselves are a testimony they do not change and distort and also remain in the uttered form. There is largely any need to justify its proof in any other way or method:

What is a Mantra and what is its form?

According to Sanskrit-Hindi dictionary, a word is that which is spoken or mentioned in the Vedas or reacted for seeking favours or prayers, but the stanzas of 'Shrimad Bhagwat Geeta' cannot be termed as Mantras. The words which are addressed to any deity, in a prayerful way, is a Mantra, like 'OM NAMAH SHIVAYE'. But in due course of time, even the mantras addressed to some gods, were also included in the list and category of mantras, such as the tantrik mantras. The words so often used by Shakta and Tantrik disciplines, were also known as mantras and it is believed that, by these mantras, many aspirants achieved subtle and immense prowess and capability by using such abbreviated root mantras. .

Vedic mantras have been considered as if uttered by Bramha. Acharya Aapastamba maintains ‘मंत्रब्रह्मण्योर्वेदनामधेयम्’

Shabar Swami writes in his critical analysis that what's particular feature of a mantra? He himself replies that any word, uttered from the mouth of a guru which devotes a specific tone style, fully systematised, is everlasting, heard by a disciple, is called a mantra.

About the effect, form and prowess of a mantra, it can be deduced that any mantra averment that emanates from Vedas through a guru's mouth is immortal undistorted, subtle, omnipresent and omniscient, is the seat of all the three ages, is a mantra. Mantra's effect reaches where voice fails to reach.

Every mantra has an inherent and subtle import which cannot be expressed ordinarily but our vocal voice helps it to express. Power of mantras can only be felt by experience but cannot be viewed by our naked eyes; rather mantras help our eyes to attain super natural power, thus enabling them to know the import of mantras. Prowess and effect of mantras, though expressed through vocal words, cannot be described as it is indescribable.

In due course of time mantras were used in common parlance and routine life in the form of giving or seeking advice, thinking, by taking a thoughtful resolve (Sankalpa) secret consultation etc.

Secrets of Mantras and Sound

Indian sages have laid down certain words for spelling the mantras in the form of tone, vocabulary, pronunciation, stress on particular words to be applied while pronouncing. Hence there is a particular tone for pronouncing a specific mantra in a particular style, emphasis, tone and stress.

Some people say mantras are ineffective and these are those people who wish to derive mileage from the mantras written in the books, but ignore other requirements, which are necessary to accomplish a successful result.

Live aspect and power of mantra is hidden in sound which cannot be gained and learnt by reading from an inanimate pages of a book, for which a learned scholar's (Guru's) help is needed (To learn cannot be gained Neo Disco Culture, dance and rubbish and meaningless music these persons can spend time and money to learn all such facts in club houses or closed rooms, but they feel ashamed of approaching a scholarly teacher to learn Vedic mantras. They wish to learn the latest, deep and spiritual import of these immortal mantras while sleeping in their bedrooms or try to find our from dead pages of a book, without making any effort or labour - Dr. Dwivedi.

It is a pity that only the young persons who are taken-a-back by modern education are the worst critics of Vedic mantras. These are wayward, ill informed, wrongly guided persons who hesitate to adopt the norms and rituals of Vedas. Let us not forget that knowledge of Vedic mantras has descended on the Brahmins from generation to generation. Hence, in order to reach the treasure of knowledge, there is no option but to seek guidance from a brahmin who is an adapt in the rituals and mantras.

You must have witnessed or attended political symposia where a poet is capable of making his listeners laugh and weep. But, if an ordinary person recites his poems, he won't be able to cast any impact on the audience. The reason behind this glaring difference being that there is a particular way, tone, emphasis on particular words and expressions, the art of oratory which can produce the desired effect on the audience. This example pertains only to a practical aspect of our life but, in case of Vedic mantras, one has to study and learn with a fortified and steel will and determination. It is a sort of 'Sadhana' which requires effort, (hard and sustained), study and labour.

According to Vedic Rishis, a person is like a donkey who carries loads of sandalwood but is unable to enjoy its fragrant smell. That is, any person who, without knowledge of the tone, spirit and inherent meaning of mantras, goes on chanting Vedic mantras by simply reciting them, is like a donkey. Such a person cannot appreciate nor convey the inherent import of Vedic mantras to his hosts, because he himself is bereft of such an expertise and capability. It is a pre-requisite of Vedic mantras to fully understand, digest and then convey. Yaska, the analyst of Vedas' maintains, "Effective impact of any mantra is possible only when the same is fully understood, pronounced in a designated method and tone, for which knowledge of sound, vocabulary, pronunciation, stress etc are the milestones."

Panini says, "one who has no knowledge of vedic mantras' recitation, has no right to recite the mantras." He cites an example, a factual episode, in support of his views.

मन्त्रो हीनः स्वरतो वर्णतो वा, मिथ्यं प्रयुक्तो न तर्मर्थमाह।

स वाग्वद्भो यजमानं हिनस्ति यथेन्दशत्रुः स्वस्तो ज्यराधात्॥

Vritra arrange for a sacrifice to defeat Indra and recited the mantra इन्द्र-शत्रुवधेऽस्य: while offering oblation at the sacrifice. Due to variation in stress to be employed on pronouncing this mantra (which should have conveyed the import that Indra's enemy should prosper, but to variable stress in pronunciation, while chanting the mantra, it conveyed the meaning that 'Indra may prosper.' The wrong impact was created due to wrong stress and pronunciation, as a result of which 'Vritra' got decimated.

It is not easy to believe that slight variation could lead to such a variable outcome. Effect and significance of phonology doesn't end up here, but we are grateful to western scholars who carried out multiple experiments and research on this science that lessons on sound-energy can be found in text books from II standard to post-graduate standard.

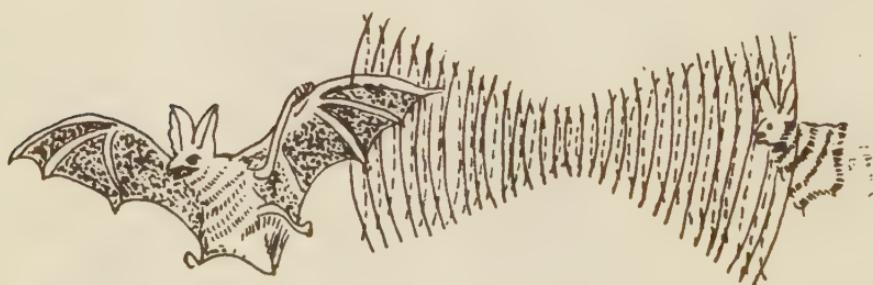

The scientists, on the basis of their research, observed that impact of sound is dependent upon its intensity, vibration and dimension. Man cannot hear those sound waves that repeat at frequency of 20 to 20,000 K/C per second. Repetitive sound waves, which are below 20 and exceed 20,000 K/C, cannot be heard by us. But, in case of animals, even the lower and higher frequency waves, can be heard by the animals.

The scientists reached the conclusion that animals, like cows, ox, goats, horses and snakes, including even fish, and other live species of animals can foresee impending events like earthquakes etc. which could serve as warning signals for human beings. They studied on cow, ox, sheep and horses and concluded that they have special capability to hear earth quake generated vibrations and sounds.

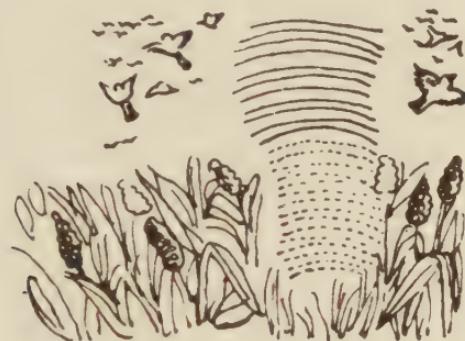

A repetition of any frequency, above 20,000 per second, is rated as High Frequency sound, but human beings are incapable of listening to such sounds. Some animals, say like dogs, have the capability to hear such high frequency sound waves. This may be the reason for treating dogs as forewarners about unseen events by the angurists or those who believe in the theory of omens. Dog is an alert animal who starts barking on seeing some unseen ghosts, evil spirits or even dead person's body. Much has been said and written about release of 'Mootha' in Mantra, Yantra and Tantra. It is also claimed that grains of elephant beans (Urad) if activated by recitation of mantras, produce a particular sound and then proceed towards the target. If the targeted person has fully fortified and protected his body, the 'Mootha' will return to the sender to reprimand and, or even kill him. Possibly, all such claims might have looked as imaginary or farcical to people a few years ago but theory of regression of sound has proved, beyond doubt, that through process of vibration, sound can reach to the aimed/targeted place/person and it can return to its inception point, if it faces any sort of hurdle during its journey, or at the targeted point.

Brat is generally a blind animal but scientific research unravels that it has an uncanny capacity to produce high frequency sound. Even though brat is (generally) a blind animal, it creates high frequency sound by means of fluttering before taking off. If there is any impedimental object/factor on its way, sound waves hit against that object and, then, finally return/ regress to the bat. Needless to point out that these (returned) sound waves help this animal to carve and chalk out its own pathway. Now, it has been proved that regression is a common trait of sound waves.

Regressed sound holds a unique place in our practical life. It is utilised to find to gaps and cracks between moulded sheets, clothes, for washing saucers, to cut hard objects and to 'join' aluminium. Not only this but sound also has effect on biological products. For instance, sound helps grains to towards more growth and fertility which results in hopping grain yield. Scientific experiments have also proved that if food is treated with regressive sound, it doesn't get spoiled for a longer period. Russian Scientist, Ganin, also Conducted research work in this direction and made a scintillating experiment.

The said Russian Scientist invented a revolving instrument whose medium sound could keep harmful insects away from the crops, by merely creating a dreadful sound.

Italy also didn't lag behind. The Italian scientists invented a mechanical device, based the theory of regressive sound, whose scaring sound could compel the mouse to leave a home.

The above diagram pertains to a strange mechanical device, produced by an Italian trading company, which produces a strange whistle-like sound which can make the mouse run out of a building within wink of an eye.

Persons knowing Physiology maintain, that human brain's small portion remain active, whereas rest of it remains inactive and the surgeons find it difficult to activate the inactive (brain's) portion. On the contrary, yoga claims that entire inactive portion of brain can also be activated. According to yogic theory that loud sound, generated by a conch and bronze bell can activate brain's vessels or nerves through vibrating sounds generated by the bell and conch. The claim and logic made by the yogis is an open challenge to modern scientists to verify the veracity of the said claim of yogis.

Modern phonologists have made various attempts, with the help of modern phonological devices, to obtain knowledge about sound. Sanskrit grammicians have also laid particular emphasis on the principle of 'Saphuta. (सफुट). According to them man can only hear through the last 'saphote' (out of the four types) only, while the first three types are beyond audibility - These types have been detailed in Rigveda. Their conclusion being that the three kinds of 'saphote', which are actually high frequency sounds, horribly impact atmosphere.

It has been a customary to light an earthen lamp, containing clarified butter, in front of an aspirant's eyes. There is sound reason behind it; viz word or sound is an air predominant element and when a word is uttered, the blowing wind passes through 'deepak', thus imparting it the capacity to spread sound into vacuum, in addition to imparting it glitter also. According to physics when seeds are mixed with earth, they multiply into hundred times of grain yield. In the same anything mixed with water multiplies thousand times and the one mixed with fire multiplies a million times. For instance when a cooked vegetable is seasoned with asafoetida, its fragrance spreads all over the area around. The objects consigned to sacrificial fire (Havan). Convert into small atoms and spread to entire universe. Perhaps, it may be the reason behind recitation of mantras in the presence of fire. Through this process sound waves multiply manifold, gets fortified and more effective, due to intermingling with light, energy so as to make the mantras more effective, far reaching and consequential. Meeting of sound and light is not a fable, it is a fact which is substantiated and supported by video films which have become a part and parcel of our modern civilization.

Sound Therapy (Shabad Brahma)

In Bible it is written, "In the beginning there was only God, and God had only sound and finally sound is God itself." Sound is carrier (catalyser) of spoken word. Specific research was carried, (with regard to sanskrit alphabet) in connection with 'word' or sound and, after sustained reasearch it was felt that diseases can be dispelled by sound. Even foreign scholars hold identical views in this respect. 'Onkar' is a substantive sound and its mere chant removes mental diseases automatically. Repeated chanting of the word 'pranav' purifies blood in the brain, thus purifying brain. 'Beeja Mantras', pronounced हनंग ह्रीं (Hanang, Hreeng) might look outwardly meaningless, but, if repeated thrice systematically have proved as effective tranquilisers, the more the repetition of these terms, the greater the circulation of blood in the heart region. If pronunciation of the nasal word ह्रीं is done with an open mouth, it can dispel many diseased conditions. Last sage Panini has laid stress on 'Ranga's pronunciation. 'Ranga' is followed by the last word and if it is uttered nasally, it will dispel the diseases which are posited within breadth of 24 fingers. He has mentioned about certain formulae which are said to affect 24 types of diseases but are ineffective on devotees of who adhere to 'Sound Therapy'. For instance cases of diarrhoea, (5/2/9) leprosy (8/3/97) and (tubercular) fever, (3/2/142), contact deseases/infections (3/3/6) heart problems (6/3/51) (Note: figurative references pertain to Panini's Ashtaadhyayat) Such types of research and study are being carried out at Taxila University, as a major subject of study and research Uta College of Medicine, London, and New York based 'Yeshova University's 'Albert Einstein College of Medicine' are the venues where practical and useful research has been carried out with regard to treating various diseases through sound therapy.

Marvel of Mantra

Scientists have conceded the miraculous effects of alphabets and word pronunciation. In addition, they also concede that mantras are a powerful and practical ways for combination of sound waves. Sound waves, emanating from the words, impact brain waves and ethereal atmosphere. As we cannot see magnetic and radioactive waves floating in the atmosphere, similarly we cannot visualise with our naked eyes, the impact created by loud chanting of mantras and powerful sounds, emanating therefrom. It is not prudent to repeat various scintillating incidents, which are replete in Hindu, Muslim, Sikh, Jain, and Christian treatises on mythology. A fact does not require any proof - this is the governing and motivating aim which has prompted me to pen down this book which is unique, ancient, apart from having photos of manuscript. You can try your hand at any one of the experiments, detailed in this book, after fully digesting, assimilating and understanding the same and contact me, in case you face any problem. After becoming doubly sure and armed with requisite know-how, proceed with full confidence, patience towards advancing your desired end. You should have a determined and steel will to experiment and try your hand at any experiment. Ultimately, you will find success knocking at your doorstep and delay, if any, can originate from your indecision, and vacillation.

Dr. Bhojraj Dwivedi

Akhshar - Brahma

अक्षरं परमं ब्रह्म सताननमजं विभुम् ।
वेदान्तेषु वदन्त्येकं धैतन्यं ज्योतिरीश्वारम् ॥

(Agnipurana)

The author has used the term 'Akhshar' as Bramha' which is everlasting, unborn, omnipresent, full of life and resembles 'Joyti' (fire) which, in itself, is nothing but God

इदभन्धस्तमः कृत्वा जायेत भुवनं त्रयम् ।
यदि शब्दाद्ब्रयं ज्योतिरासंसारं न दीप्यते ॥

(Kavyadarsha)

Entire universal would have been plunged into darkness, had not it been brightened with jyoti in the form of 'Shabad'.

Vedic Mantras and Deities (Devata)

All the Vedic mantras have been classified and divided into three Categories Viz. 1. 'Rik' 2. 'Yajush' and 3. 'Saama'. 'Rik' means prayer or obeisance, 'Yajush' means method to observe (ritualistic) sacrifice etc., and 'Saama' means any lyric= or song that bestows tranquility and well-being. In due course of time, the said divisions were bifurcated into four parts which appeared in this form of four vedas, such as Rigveda, Yajurveda, Saamveda and Atharvaveda. Rigveda contains topics like search for peace, on-going process and tradition of philosophy, religious and wise sayings, in addition to black magic, emulets etc..

'Rigveda' is certainly the oldest treatise of the world, though scholars differ about exact date and year of its writing, but most of them agree that the same was written somewhere between 2000 and 3000 B.C. According to Hindu belief Vedas are immortal, unending, omnipresent, incompatible, beyond time barriers.. It is believed the Vedic literature is not composed by any person, rather it is the outcome of inner sight and imagination of the ascetics: They heard the mantras, as if spoken to them, and then phrased into different vedas. This is the reason why vedas are called as 'Shruti'. Vedas are considered to be the final testimony as if the voice has emanated from the mouth of almighty god and that's the reason for their eternity, endlessness and sanatan.

Vedic Deities

Facets and characteristics have been attached to various deities, each representing a particular facet of nature. Each deity, at the time of worship, is established as the top-most deity. During Vedic period, people were simple, straight forward, frank and tender. For an ascetic a deity was considered as supreme, who charmed and fancied him, who fortified his conviction and, as a result thereof worshipped him. Even the most powerful deities are dependent upon other deities and such references are abundant in the Vedas, in respect of Sun, Varun, Indra, Vishnu, Agni and Marut. In fact, multiple worship of various deities was established as worship of one deity (Ekeshwarved). As per verses of the Vedas, independent status and prowess of each deity was assessed in the following pattern.

'AGNI' is the most pious formidable and popular deity of the Vedic aryans and there are about 200 verses which pertain to Agni (fire) which is directly connected with sacrifice (Havan). Agni begets part of offerings made to it but other deities also receive part of the offerings. Agni is the chief benefactor of its descpiles (sadhakas) and is present, in the form of light, in all the lokas (worlds). There are 5 hymns pertaining to 'VISHNU' in the Rigveda wherein he has been described as an extra powerful deity, helper of the weak, cows and pregnancies. He is also described as protector of universe and helper of Indra in the hour of emergency. INDRA is the supermost and national god of Vedic Aryans and that is the reason why one-fourth portion of Rigveda is attributed to Indra in his approbation. He is the protector of sacrifices and wars. His chief weapon is 'VAJRA' and he is greatly fond of 'Soma' (a kind of intoxicant wine). He fights with the devils for safeguarding his followers in a state of drought, he fights with clouds and compels them to rainfall. Some scholars consider lightning as a fighting weapon of Indra (Vajra). When obeisance is offered and sacrifice performed with chanting of specially earmarked mantra, Indra gets elated and then he causes rainfall, apart from victory over the enemies. 'VARUN' is a wealth conferring god who extricated persons from the cycle of birth and death and due to his benevolence, one can attain capability to know events of/about past, present and future. RUDRA is a god who destroys evils and impact of curse. Similarly gods like SAVIT, USHAS, POOSHAN, PRAJA PATI AND SOM have been described /referred to in the vedas.

All the said god get highly appeased by obeisance, high quality of wood and 'Samagari' satiate them, as a result of which they fulfill desires of their disciples. Every Vedic Mantra has been related to a specific ascetic, meter and deity (God) and each mantra has been written for attainment of a specific purpose. Like the vedas, every veda hymn is eternal, true, free from effort of age and decimation omnipotent. There is no need to justify this point as truth needs no proof. Majority of people cry hoarse about utility of vedic hymns, but only a few of whom know, if at all, about when, where, how of the mantras. It is necessary to fully comprehend the import of vedic literature which is a collection of multiple knowledge. It is also necessary to understand secrets, form and principles of Vedic knowledge. It is said that, what to speak of deeply studying and digesting the import of multiple treasure of knowledge enshrined and hidden in the Vedas, majority of our people have never bothered to acquaint themselves even with the basics of Vedic Wisdom and knowledge. Not only that, even those who claim to possess knowledge of sanskrit, the sanskrit teachers and scholars, have, if at all only surface knowledge. Various forms of modern media have aligned vedas with a particular caste and class (that is Brahmins) but, it is a pitiable truth that majority of Brahmins also chant Vedic mantras like a parrot, without understanding meaning of uttered mantras. They draw a blank, when called upon to explain dormant import of such mantras- this way ignorance of proper knowledge has touched its nadir but even then, the brahmins still remain oblivious to this stark reality. I have attempted to lay open the hidden treasure of knowledge, enshrined in the Vedas, because our family belongs to the class of Brahmins which possesses various invaluable and rarely available treatises, apart from performing rituals, Tantra, Mantra and Yantra disciplines. Hence, this book presents the secrets and salient characteristics in a systematic way, for the benefit of general masses.

RIGVEDA

(Mandal: 10, Sookta - 191, Mantras - 10552)

1. To remove diseases by touch of hand

Sage: Vasishtha, Deity - Vishwadevah'

हस्ताभ्यां दशशाखाभ्यां जिह्वा वाच पुरोगवी ।
अनामयिल्लभ्यां त्वा ताभ्यां त्वोप स्पृशामसि ॥

— क्र. 10/137/7

Meaning - Tongue is the first organ that expresses voice. I bow to God with my folded hands. It will dispel all your aliments and then bestow good health.

Method - To begin with, sound the patient about his disease free state. Then, while reciting the mantra, touch the patient's specific organ where disease is situated: Practically lay the fingers of hands on the particular part. This is how an ailing patient can be relieved of his ailment by mere touch of fingers. This process is known as Vasishtha-Vidya, which these days, is being practised in the form of 'REIKI'.

2. Removing Venom

Sage : Vasishtha, Deity - Maitra varunau, Metre-Trishtup.

यम्मेसमाने यमसमानो निचखानेदमहन्तं व्लगमुत्किरामि,

यम्मेसबन्धुर्यमसबन्धुर्लिंचखानेदमहन्तं व्लगमुत्किरामि,

यम्मेसजातो यमसजातो निचखानोक्त्याङ्किरामि ॥१ ॥

-अ. 5/क. 23/मं. 5

Meaning - "We beseech the kindness and help of lord Vishnu to root out all the sorcery objects (burried underneath ground in the form of bone, hair, nails etc) which create hurdles in performance of sacrifice (Haran) and also which cast damaging impact and all such evil deeds are done on the earth by demons and evil persons after.

chanting / reading out this mantra, excavate out of earth the burried harmful objects.

Such harmful sorceries have been burried, with a view to cause harm to me by wicked persons or people of our own house who know sorcery or by a minister, or my relative , in a fit of anger. I excavate all such objects - after reading this mantra excavate from earth these harmful objects with help of a sickle from the southwest direction.

If someone (who is affront to me) has intended to damage my wealth, family, clan, piety, prestige etc. or has tried to cause harm to me by any manner and with whichever means. I hereby dig out all such objects out of the earth (After reading this mantra dig out earth from south-west side).

I hereby dig out earth from the north-east side if some sorcery has been burried thereunder by my maternal uncle or any one from his family or by any unrelated person (After reading this mantra dig out earth from the north-east direction).

If my twin-brother or any other brother has tried to harm me with a malicious intent. I hereby dig out and throw away the excavated earth so that my enemies are decimated/harmed (After saying so, dig out earth from all the four sides).

Analysis of the Mantra : In ancient times the demons were defeated by Indra, whereafter they burried harmful objects, with a view to killing, in a pit. They tormented Indra, but performed sacrifice and dug out all the harmful objects, like bones, hair etc., by which, evil designs of demons were defeated. The objects were burried in a pit which was deep (equal to an arms length).

The evil objects were dug out after excavating earth (which measured upto an arm's length in depth); hence it has become a practical ritualistic measure to dig out and take out burried objects at an arm's depth. A wooden sickle used for digging all the four corners are earmarked before initiating digging. This sickle is called 'Abhri' which is held in right hand's grip and directed towards the area to be dug up. Then all the four corners are dug up. The pit should be dug up in a circular form. Then dig out earth and then remove the objects and throw away the same - this is a Vedic process which is required to be followed.

I return you back to the sorcerer who has done incantation by means by mixing in an earthen pot rice, barley, wheat, sesamum, Maalkangani, raw meat of cow to harm me. We also return the sorcery to the evil person who has done it on cock, goat or tree. We return the Sorcery to the wicked person who has done it on one-hooked or double-teethed donkey. I return sorcery if it has been done by concealing it in the eatables and immersed it under the field. I return it, if it has been performed in a yagya- shala (place where sacrifice is performed). If it has been done in a gathering or ropes, I return the same to you. If someone has done it on army's weaponry and sound bugules; I return the same to the evil doer. If it has been consigned into a well, or burial ground or in house, I return the same to him. If sorcery has been done on a burning human bone then I return the same to the same person who is a meat-eater. If any imprudent has done this witchcraft to torment us by adhering to wrong methods, I return the same to him through the same route. The witchcraft that has been directed to harm pious people like us, is returned to the evil doer so that his ill motives do not succeed and we remain free from the bad effects. Let Indra destroy our secret enemies who surreptitiously, stealthily and wickedly plan and wish to harm us. Let Indra destroy all such evil-intentioned devils with the might of his weapons and burn him with fire flames.

O, green leaves of mustard! you are son of Vihahava and Madavate. You impart your leaves to feed the human beings; hence do not resemble like your parents. O Tallvilik witch! you are the root cause of causing eye diseases; hence remove and shed away the eye troubles. Let the eye diseases like Ailab, Vabhru and Babhrus etc get dispelled from the host's body. O Sasayamanjari! You have been named 'Alaslasa'. As you are used first of all, you have been named as 'Poorva'. O, Shalanjala, your name is 'Uttava' because you are used last of all. O, Neelaglasala! You are used in between the said two medicines, hence remove all my eye related problems.

Note - After sanctifying mustard oil with the above mantras, green leaves (of spinach, green gram leaves, Bathua and green peas) are added to it, and continuous of blended vegetable has been noticed to remove eye troubles. If rose water is sanctified these mantras and then 3 drops each are dropped in the eyes in the morning, noon and evening, it shows remarkable result in dispelling eye problems. 12. A Tested and unique Mantra to Enhance hair length.

1-3 Uparibabhrava, Shani, Jagati,

2. Trishtup 3. Chatupachham Kumamatyanushtup.

इन्द्रं आसीत्सीरपतिः शतक्रतुः कोनाशा आसन्मरुतः सुदानवः ॥१ ॥

आरात्वदन्या वननि वृक्षि त्वं शमि शतवल्ला विरोह ॥२ ॥

बृहत्पत्नाशे सुभगे वर्णवुद्ध ऋतावरि ।
मातेव पुत्रेभ्ये मृड केशेभ्यः शमि ॥३ ॥

का. 6/अ. 3/सू. 30

Meaning - The gods gave tasty/sweet variety of barley to human being on the banks of saraswati river. To grow rice Indra ploughed the fields and seeds acted as the farmers. O Shani! Your intoxication helps to growth of hair and their development, and due to this quality all persons are appeased by you. You grow into multiple branches, hence I do not chop you but chop other trees/plantations. My good luck is due to your benevolence though green leaves grow even without presence of any rainfall; hence you nurture and look after human beings as a mother looks after her kids. Hence I request you to prove a handy device to enhance growth of hair.

Remarks- If the oil, meant to be applied on the head, is sanctified with mantras and then massaged /applied over the head, it will dispel alopecia (baldness) and (premature) falling of hair. This mantra has been specifically penned for nutrition, growth and elongation of the hair, even though modern, medical science has declared alopecia as an incurable disease. If hair oils prepared in Ayurvedic therapy, are mixed with sanctified buds of barley and juice of 'Shami' tree, then, some permanent cure for alopecia may be traced out. It is, therefore, suggested that our inquisitive and discerning scholars might feel encouraged to carry out some research, work in this direction.

परि णो वृद्धि शपथ हृदयन्निरिव दहन् ।

We do not heap curse on anyone but our enemies, who curse us, speak harshly about us, we consign such devils in front of deaths as pieces of bread are thrown before the dogs.

Comment - If some ascetic, under impact of furious anger, has cast any malediction, without any apparent reason, or when an enemy is determined to decimate us or uses unethical words, then his articulatory power can be rendered ineffectual by recitation of these mantras due to which the damaging effects will recoil on him whereby he himself will get harmed.

-का. 5/अ. 3/ख. 13

Meaning - Lord of heaven, Varuna, has sermonised me about dispelling evil effects venom which I repeat here. I hereby remove the poison-Venom-which lies beneath or upon the skin, In the same way as water disappears in the sand. I have stopped spread of venom which dehydrates or dries up water. Poison of extreme or medium virulence will also prove ineffective due to impact of my fear. My promise is like burst of a cloud which causes rains. I, hereby, restrict the venom of serpent with the force of my words. Let this man, bitten by a snake, regain life as his venom disappear as the sun rise removes darkness. With my visual process, I remove your power (to bite), and use venom as a means to dispel venom. May you meet your end by your own venom. O kaley and despised snakes! You must not stay near my friend, listen to me and convey my opinion to all other snakes so that the venom spreads to your bodies. I hereby dispel and destroy the venom of snakes (like black, grey coloured etc), who live on wet areas or dry areas and tremble them with the help of my chariot. O Serpents ! Your parents move quite fast. I know your mates also. You are powerless, hence cannot cause any harm to us. The serpent's female progeny emerging out of a fig tree, is the follower of a black she-snake (who stings with its fangs to spread venom to the victim) hence I render ineffective her venom that causes harm, as she expresses her anguish through her fangs. The she-serpent, who was roaming about, said that let the venom of female serpents be ineffective who have abode in dug up places. You are not 'Taabuwa', because venom gets dispelled due to effect of 'Taabuwa'. You are also 'Tastuva' because venom becomes ineffective due to effect of 'Tastuva'.

We wish to be blessed with resultant fruits and glory by the earth where water flows with an even speed (flow). Miraculous and tested effect of Tantras of 'Durga Saptashati'

Worship and obeisance of shakti (Goddess) yields instant results in 'Kaliyug'. Tantrik mantras are considered particularly effective and powerful in Shakti-worship and Durga saptishati is the top most treatise in Tanktrik mantras. Significance of goddess has been described through 700 mantras of 'Shri Markandeya Purana', and that is why it is called 'Saptashati'. These Tantrik mantras are spread over 13 chapters, and all these tantrik mantras having been described in Tantrik style are known as mantras. No other treatise is popular in shakta community and Indian Tantrik literature as Durga saptashati: Though this treatise is, in itself, a self-contained book on various specific experiments, from where the inquisitive aspirants attain rare power, achievements etc. quite easily. But, for the benefit of the common-man, only the most tested and tried methods process are being detailed.

Time for worship of Durga - Though any time or day is ideal and auspicious for Durga's worship, yet the authors have placed certain limitations for instant gains. Jagdamba herself opines, "No sin will be caused to a person who reads chapters 1,2,9 and 10 on 8th, 4th and 9th day with concentration, nor he will face any type of penury and that he will never experience the pain of separation from his near and dear ones."

There is a tradition to recite and listen to 'Durga saptashati, perform sacrifice for nine days, that is from first to ninth day Chatra Shukla of the new year. According to this treatise Durga has nine forms viz. Shailputri, Bramhacharini Chandra ghanta, Kooshmanda, Skandmata, Katyayani, Kaalratri, Mahagauri and Siddhadaatri. Attribute one recitation each to the above mentioned forms of Durga, thus completing the process. For specific purpose and desired purposes and aims, recitations pertaining to Shatchandi, Shahasrachandi and Lakhshachandi are well known. Best time for Durga worship is 'Prakat Ratri'. In addition to it, 'Gupat Navratri' is said to be most appropriate to attain secretive attainments

Conspicuous points to be kept in mind with regard to Durga worship

* Idol of goddess is installed when sun is in 'Dakhshenayana' (Southern solstice) though it can be performed in Magha and Ashwin also.

* Idols of three goddesses should not be worshipped in one house.

* Durga is evoked by offering bad leaves, branches, Trishul or coconut but never offer grass (doorva) at the time of worship of Durga.

* Never offer unfragrant and poisonous flowers, but always offer red 'Kaner' and other fragrant flowers.

* During 'Navratras' Urn -installation and decoration is done only once in a day. According to 'Rudrayamal sacrifice, performed at night, yields fruitful instant results.

* Idol of Bhagwati is decorated/covered with red coloured clothes and idol is never installed in north-inclined direction.

* The aspirant should wear a garland of coral beads or Rudrakhsha around his neck. Revolve around the idol of goddess once only.

* 'Devi Kavach' helps to protect the body of the aspirant who lives for 100 years, defying the fear of premature or untimely death. Recitation of 'Kavach Patha' helps him to be free from all incantations. Kavach is the root of 'Shakti', hence its recitation must precede 'Durga worship. But mantras for protection (Raksha mantras) must not be received (as their recitation is forbidden) during performing sacrifice, in relation to 'Durga Yagya'

* Door, bolt is made of iron or wood, with which door is closed. In order to enter into a house bolt is an important device. Similarly, 'Argala Patha' also holds an important status in 'Saptashati'. By recitation of the other chapter the devotee's house freed from all the obstacles, his aims get accomplished, due to which he is respected in all the three 'lokas' (Planes)

* 'Keelak' is called as 'Utakeelan' in Saptashati, and that's the reason 'Kavach', 'Argala', and 'Keelk' recitations respectively are considered forerunners of 'Durga worship. (in the same order, as given here).

* Oblation of 24 to 27 Mantras of chapter IV is prohibited. Instead repeat ("ॐ महालक्ष्यः नमः") four times and then offer grains etc. to sacrificial fire.

* When sacrifice is the mode of worship, offer 'kheer' containing sugar, ghee and cloves to the sacrificial fire, at the start and end of each chapter.

* Benefit can only be had if 'Siddha Kunjika stotra' is recited at the end of each recitation : It is a key to many effective root words and Saabar Mantras which form part of 'Durga-Paath.'

* Entire Durga saptashati has been divided into three parts viz. I part (1), middle part (2,3,4) and concluding part called respectively 'Prathamam', 'Madhyama and 'Uttar Charitras'. (5,6,7,8,9,10, 11,12). Never recite any chapter in piecemeal.

* Form of Goddess has been depicted prior to start of all the chapters. Hence, keep specific form of goddess in view, the mantras which are related to a specific purpose and attainment. Hence, before starting reading of any chapter, always visualise actual form and appearance of the goddess before your eyes. Any wayward, unsystematic approach will not yield any fruitful result, hence apply your concentration fully.

* For attainment of a specific aim, 'Sumpit' is applied. This 'Sampit' recitation is practised in two ways- First 'Uday' and second 'Asta', the former is used for enhancement in prosperity and later for offsetting ill effects of Sorcery. Due to space crunch, all the details cannot be detailed here. Hence, seek guidance and directions from a scholarly priest (pundit) or guide before embarking upon any performance.

*Worship style, procedure and pronunciation of mantras must be heard from a priest's mouth because only an able scholar can guide and import knowledge about Setu, Mahasetu, Mukhshodham, Kullika, Shodhopachar, Sanjeevani, Utakeelan, Nirmalikaran. These are all very important facets and procedures which only an able teacher can explain. You cannot comprehend all these subjects by merely reading any book. Accomplishment can be attained by purity of resolve and benevolence of the teacher. Hence never venture into any experiment without being armed with requisite information and know how.

Instant test for accomplishment and non- accomplishment

Shri Durga Saptashati

(सिद्धि-असिद्धि की तत्काल परीक्षा)

देवी प्रतिष्ठा, दीक्षा, स्थापना, यज्ञ एवं विशिष्ट अनुष्ठानों को सम्पन्न करने के पूर्व जौ (यव) के दोनों को ताजा मिट्टी के पात्र में बोया जाता है। प्रतिष्ठा किंवा स्थापना के दिवस ही शुभकाल में ये दाने बोये जाते हैं। 'सिद्धांतशेष' के अनुसार तीसरे ही दिन यवांडुर के दर्शन हो जाने चाहिए।

इन अड्डों की बढ़ोत्तरी व प्रफुल्लता पर कार्य सिद्धि की परीक्षा होती है। 'अवृष्टि कुरुते कृष्ण, धूम्राभं कलहं तथा' अर्थात् काले अंकुर उगने पर उस वर्ष अनावृष्टि, निर्निता, धुएं की आभा वाले होने पर परिवार में कलह जानें। न उगने पर जननाश, मृत्यु व कार्यबाधा, नीले रंग से दुर्भिक्ष (अकाल) समझें। रक्त वर्ण के होने पर रोग, व्याधि व शत्रु-भय समझें। हरा रंग पुष्टिवर्धक तथा लाभप्रद है तथा श्वेतदूर्वा अत्यन्त शुभफलकारी व शीघ्र लाभदायक मानी गई है। आधी हरी व पीली दूर्वा उत्पन्न होने पर पहले कार्य होगा परन्तु बाद में हानि होगी। अशुभ दूर्वा के उत्पन्न होने पर आठवें दिन 'शांति होम' द्वारा उनका हवन किया जाता है। श्वेत दूर्वा पर अन्य कई तांत्रिक प्रयोगों की चर्चा तन्त्रशास्त्र में की गई है।

I salute the terrifying figure of Mahakali who holds sword, chakra, Gada, Arrow, bow, spear, Bhushindi, forehead and conch in her ten hands. She has three eyes and all her organs are decorated with ornaments. The glow of her body resembles lustre of blue diamond. She has ten feet, ten hands and ten mouths. I pay obeisance to Mahakali Goddess who was worshipped by Brahma for killing Madhu and Kaitabh demons. (When lord, Vishnu was deep asleep)

To Focus attention

ॐ महामाया हरेश्चैपा तथा संमोह्यते जगत्,
 ज्ञानिनामपि चेतांसि देवी भगवति हि सा ।
 बलादाकृष्य मोहाय महामाया प्रवच्छति ॥-१/५५

Mahakali (Mahamaya) is Yogamaya of Shri Hari. It is she who envelopes this universe with indulgent attachment. It is due to her prowess that she, by forcefully diverting minds of ascetics, falls them into the pit of attachment.

Note - If any person systematically recites this mantras performs sacrifice and purifies himself, he will be in a position to control all the beings. To begin with, this mantra should be sanctified. Then the man, while chanting this mantra mentally should approach any incorrigible person who will develop fancy and attraction towards him. If sindoor (Red colour), after being sanctified with this mantra, is applied to the forehead, people will become instantly and automatically eager to carry out his orders

ध्यान- ॐ अक्षस्त्रक्परशुं गदेपुकुलिशं पशं धनुष्कृणिका, Dhyana : I pay obisance to Goddess Mahalakshmi who is seated on a lotus platform (seat), has a pleasing face and appearance, has killed Mahesh demon. Mahalakshmi, has been born due to accumulated lustre ('Teja') of the gods, and has 18 hands in which she is holding Rudrakhsh mala, battle axe, Indian Club (Gada), arrow, three-pronged spear (Trishul), Stone, lotus, bow, kamandal, rod, shakti, shield, Conch, bell, rope (Paash) and Chakra (wheel).

To decimate a mob of powerful (fierce) enemies

क्षणेन तन्महारौन्यमसुराणां तथास्त्रिका
निन्ये क्षयं यथा वह्निस्तृणदारुमहाचयम् ॥-२/६७

Meaning - As burning fire can reduce to ashes a mount of wood and thatches. Similarly Saurjodabav Mahalakshmi had decimated a large army of demons in a split second (with her mighty power of 18 hands). I, therefore, make an earnest request to her to decimate all my enemies' groups as quickly as possible.

Mahishasur Mardinee

ध्यान- एवमुक्त्वा समुत्प्य साऽरुढा तं महासुरम्,

Jagadamba, having eighteen hands and three eyes, pounced on demon Mahish (Mahishasur) and mounted on its body, crushed him with her mighty feet and attacked his throat with her spear. Even being compressed under her feet, the demon had simply managed to take his half body (out of a buffalow's body) when the goddess stopped half portion of his body, from coming out, and then chopped off his head. I respectfully prostate of the feet of such a mighty goddess.

To decimate the enemy confidently and creditably.

गर्ज गर्ज क्षणं मूढ़, मधु यावत्पिवाम्यहम् ।

मया त्वयि हतज्व्रेव, गर्जिष्यन्त्याशु देवता- ॥३/३८

According to 'Varehtantra' honey should simultaneously be offered/consigned to the sacrificial fire while chanting this mantra. Keeping in the mind the image and form of your enemy, perform 'Samput' recitation of this mantra as a result of which the enemy will be defeated, howsoever strong he might be.

Jaya Durga

ध्यान- ॐ कालाभ्रामां कटाक्षररिकुलभयदां मौलिबद्धेन्दुरेखां,

ध्यायेद् दुर्गा जयाख्यां त्रिदशपरिवृतां सेवितां सिद्धिकामैः ॥

Let goddess Durga prove beneficial for me also whom Indra and other lords worship for fulfillment of their desires. Goddess Durga is as powerful and poignant like the dark clouds, she has blue lustre and glow, with a wink of her eye she can cause immense fear to hoards of enemies, she has celestial glow, like a moon, on her forehead, she is the holder of godly weapons like Conch, chakra, sword, Trishool etc, is surrounded by gods like Mahesh due to whose lustre all the three lokas look bright. I bow before and meditate upon such a mighty goddess.

To dispel Pain, misery and Penury

During their lucky days, if they invoke you, you bless them with auspicious intellect. One who supports all, Trishul, Plough, Conch, Pestle (Pounder), bow, and arrow in her lotus like hands, whose glamour is akin to moon during winter season, who is the basis of all the three worlds (lokas), is a destroyer of demons like Shumbha who has merged out of goddess Gauri's physical form, I continuously sing songs (or prey) as an obeisance to Goddess Mahasaraswati.

Special note : This mantra has been uttered by the goddess Jagdamba, who is the mother of this world. It is clearly indicative of Jagdamba's prideful personality, challenging life and a firm resolving power and promise.

मालाकुम्भकपालनीरजकरां चंद्रधृदूडां परां ।
सर्वज्ञेश्वरभैरवाङ्निलयां पद्मावतीं चिन्तये ॥

I pay obeisance to the brilliant goddess Padmavati whose abode is at the lapse of omniscient Bhairav. She is seated on the Naagraj and her body is decorated with garland of gems of serpents who support these gems in their hoods. Her lustre is Sun's lustre and she is a triple-eyed deity. She holds garland, pitcher, head and lotus and her forehead is decorated by the crown which resembles like a half-moon.

To torment an enemy with merely roaring sound

इत्युक्तः सोऽभ्यधवत्तामसुरे धूमलोचनः ।

हुंकारेणैव तं भस्म सा चकाराम्बिका ततः ॥

On hearing encouraging words from goddess, army commander, Dharoomlochan, ran towards her in a fit of arrogance, where upon the mighty demon fell on the ground, due to impact of her roar, and was reduced to ashes.

Chamunda

- भक्टीकुटिलात्तस्या ललाटफलकादद्रुतम्,
काली करालबदना विनिष्ठकालासिपाशिनी ।
विचित्रखट् वाङ्घरा नरमाला विभूपणा,
द्वीपिचमपरीधाना धुक्मांसातिभैरवा ॥

Due to her wrath towards her wicked enemies Abika's eyes turned red, then suddenly a black-faced Ambika appeared (due to impact of her splendour) who, carrying a sword and whip in her hands, putting on a panther Skin's Saree (Fabric) and wearing a garland of dead hands. She looked to be force and ferocious and was wearing no cloth over her body, which looked like a skeleton and was looking too horrible as her tongue was leaping out. I bow to her.

To decimate an adversary by utterance of the word 'Hoon'

उत्ताय च महासिंह देवी चण्डमधावत ।

गृहीत्वा चास्य केशेषु शिरस्तेनासिनाच्छिनत् ॥

Goddess Chamunda held a Sword in her hand, uttered 'Hoon' and attacked the demon 'chund' held him by his hair and chopped off his head.

VIII Chapter named Raklabeej Vadh, Goddess, Indrani, Vaishnavi, Shivani, Brahmani, Narsinghi, Varabvete. (Uttar Charitra)

-ॐ अरुणां करुणातरद्विताक्षीं धृतपाशांकुशवाणचाप हस्ताम् ।
अणिमादिभिरावृतां मयूखै रहिमित्येव विभावये भवनीम् ॥

I mediate on Anima and other goddesses who are enveloped with rays, whose bodies are red, eyes are compassionate, are carrying flog, spear, bow and arrow.

Note : For decimation of the demons, and establishing authority and supremacy of the gods, (like Brahma, Shiv, Kartikeya, Vishnu, Indra, Varah etc.) powers emanated from their bodies quickly and glued with their respective chariots/vehicles and weapons so as to assist chamunda in her battle with the demons. This is the reason behind conceding the prowess of various gods and that's the reason why they are worshipped.

To dispel obstacles created by fiends (evil spirits)

ॐ यतस्ततस्तद्वक्त्रेण चामुण्डा सम्प्रतीच्छति,
मुखे समुद्रगता येऽस्या रक्तपातान् महासुराः ।
तांश्चखादारथं चामुण्डा पपौ तस्य च शोणितम्,
देवी शूलेन वज्रेण बाणैरसिभिर्कृष्टिभिः ।

As the horrible demon, Raktabeej, fell injured on the ground and his body started bleeding, chamunda arrested him in her mouth. Various demons appeared from her mouth (out of the ingested blood) and she gulped all of them also. Thereafter, chamunda killed Raktabeej (whose blood she had ingested) with stone, arrow, sword and 'Rishti' etc.

Note : If a demon enters a person's body, his condition becomes serious, because the demon sucks entire blood of that person's body.

due to which the person's body turns weak, frail and anaemic though, at the time of excitement, he acquires strength of 10-15 persons. Chant this mantra eleven times and sanctify water with the same. Thereafter, utter this mantra for eleven times and then sanctify the knife. Revolve the sanctified knife eleven times in water. The person, who has been affected by demon's entry, should be given half the quantity of water to drink and the remaining half quantity should be sprinkled over his body. This way the demon will disappear and the inflicted person will feel relieved.

Prophecy through dream

तामहमावह जातवेदो लक्ष्मीमनपगामिनीं ।

यस्यां हिरण्यं प्रभूतं गावोदास्योऽश्वान्विदेयं पुरुषानहम् ॥१॥

Whenever there is doubt about fulfillment of some desire, then be seated on a purified seat and recite 10,000 recitations of above mantra and keep the garland of beads underneath a pillow and sleep. During sleep goddess Mahamaya will appear in dream and will utter some phrases or words in her divine voice which should, at once, be noted on a piece of paper and foresee fulfillment or otherwise of your desired purpose.

Killing of Nishumbha Demon

(Goddess Narsimha, Indrani, Varahi, Kaumari, Bramhani, Shiva, Durga, Vaishnavi, Kali (IX chapter) Nishumbha Vadha, Uttar-Charitra)

To free a person overpowered by an evil spirit.

कौमारीशक्तिनिर्भिन्ना: केचिननेशुर्महासुराः ।
ब्रह्माणीमन्त्रपूतेन तोयेनान्ये निराकृताः ॥

Countless notorious and mighty demons have been killed because of being hurt by power of Goddess Kaumari, By sprinkling sanctified water (in the name of Brahmani) many demons have been rendered lustreless and killed.

Note : Water should be sanctified by recitation of this mantra and then splashed over affected persons face. By doing so, the demon will beg leave of you and take to his heels.

Killing of Shumbha Demon

(X Chapter, Kaameswari (Uttar-Charitra)

- ॐ उत्तप्तहेमरुचिरां रविचन्द्रवह्नित्रां धनुश्शरयुताङ्गुशपाशशूलम् ।

रम्यैर्भुजैश्च दधतीं शिवशक्तिरूपां,

कामेश्वरीं हृदि भजामि धृतेन्दुलेखाम् ॥

I prostrate with full indulgence and conviction before goddess Kaameshwari who is wearing a half moon over her forehead, and possesses power like Shiva. Her complexion is beautiful like heated Gold, Sun, Moon, Agni are her triple eyes, who is holding in her beautiful hands bow and arrows, goad, flog and spear.

To cause unconsciousness to an enemy with the power of mantra

तमायान्तं ततो देवी सर्वदैत्यजनेश्वरम्,

जगत्यां पातयामास भित्त्वा शूलेन वक्षसि ।
 स गतासुः पपातोर्ब्दा देवीशूलाग्रविक्षतः ।
 चालयन् सकलां पुर्खीं लघ्विहीपां सपर्वताम् ॥

Seeing the king of demons, Shumbha, charging towards goddess, she punctured his body with her triple-faced spear and felled him on the ground. Being injured by her weapon life ebbed out of his body (that he is died). Due to his falling on ground, convulsions surfaced in oceans, continents & mountains.

Note : If you desire to cause harm and tormentation to your enemy, take wheat flour equal to body-weight of the enemy and process an effigy of his body lengthwise. Write enemy's name in the middle portion of the effigy. Then sanctify a sharp mouthed nail and probe the same into the effigy. Dig a pit in a burial ground (which should be dug deep as per an arm's length) and plant the effigy deep in the pit. Due to its effect the enemy will be reduced to a mere skeleton).

Neembu Tantra

* Tossing a lemon in the air

Bring a thin skinned lemon and make small holes and fill mercury and turmeric in it, and close its top with wax. If this lemon is exposed to strong sun rays or heat of fire, it will start tossing and, thus, onlookers will get thrilled & surprised.

* To extract fresh blood out of lemon

Apply milk of jackfruit over a knife and let the milk dry up. Repeat this process five times. When jackfruit is chopped with this knife, blood like juice will ooze out of it or rub red flower over a knife. If the jackfruit is chopped with this knife, it will also result in oozing of blood like stream.

Tried, Tested and Miraculous 'Mantras' of Ramacharitmanas

Method to purify a troublesome Site (Place)

If there is any, sort of problem and disturbance at a place, whether a piece of land, house or a shop, there is daily feud, income is none or inadequate, no prosperity, then by reciting the following mantra all the said troubles will disappear and damaging impact of evil souls will also disappear.

ॐ ह्रीं दुर्वृत्तानामशेषणां बलहानि करं परं रक्षो भूत पिशाचानां पठनादेव
नाशनम् ह्रीं ॐ ॥

This mantra should be recited for 1100G times and then sanctified. One-tenth number of mantra should be recited at the time of offering offerings at the sacrifice, and one tenth part thereof (that is 110 mantras) should be recited in the form of libation and cleansing processes. Then take eight numbers each of wood of khejari and bhair, iron nails, yellow small, shells, turmeric pieces (whole pieces), clove with tops. Then sanctify all the said articles and immerse dig at the eight directions. Remember, this process should be undertaken while chanting the mantra (s), starting from the Agneyakona (south-west direction). Dig a trench of one hand's length and put in small shells with back side down. If this process is completed systematically, all the hurdles will disappear and the piece of land will get purified and augur well for the aspirant. I have tried this experiment many a time and verified its effectiveness, efficacy and truth.

VI

Miraculous Shabar-Mantras

Etymology and Mystery

Shabar mantras have enthralled and amazed many learned persons, even in the presence of Tantrik and Vedic mantras. To dispel effect of Snake, scorpion bites and to remove ghosts and evil spirits and to accomplish 'Hajrat', these mantras are used. Our village culture is greatly impressed and imprinted by the effect of these mantras. It is still a mystery and a subject for research of many scholars to unravel the hidden power and etymology of these mantras.

According to a Pauranic episode there was discussion between Shiva and Parvati, in the question and answer form, when they were engaged in battle (in the form of Kirats). Shiva is the lord of these mantras and he was then in the form of 'shabar' and Goddess Parvati in the guise of 'Shabari' hence these mantras came to be known as 'Shabar Mantras'.

A group of scholars still believes that ascetic Matsyendra Nath, who was an accomplished 'Aghori' ascetic during the 'Kaliyug', was the pioneer in using these mantras and it is during his time that these mantras were practised, because there is not even a remote reference of this mantras in the Vedic and Pauranic eras. Matsyendra nath's disciple , Guru Gorakhnath, is a renowned figure for using these mantras. Gorakhnath wrote these mantras in a common man's language for the welfare of general masses and, thus, such coined verses/mantras became popular by the name of 'Shabar mantras'. According to scriptures, (here are eleven 'Acharya' (Preceptors) who solemnised and accomplished these mantras, viz.

1. Nagarjun 2. Jarhbharat 3. Harish Chandra 4. Satya Nath 5. Bheem Nath 6. Gorakh Nath 7. Charpat Nath 8. Avaghat Nath 9. Kanyadhari 10. Jalandhar Nath and 11. Malyarjun Nath

In due course of time, names of many more ascetics, recluses, Peers etc. were added to the said list. But, despite all the oddities nobody can deny that existence of these mantras and their history holds a unique place. These mantras are easy to follow, and like gems.

Peculiar features of Shabar Mantras

In various Cantos of Yajur and Atharva Vedas there are many scintillating mantras which relate to causes of death, killing, restraining activities of enemies, infatuation, creating feud etc. Though we cannot deny the effect of such vedic mantras, Yet Shabar mantras stand out as exclusively effective mantras which are said to yield instant results. On the basis of experiments conducted at our research centre we have arrived at the following conclusions :

1. There are rustic and uncultured mantras, are incorrect, grammatically wrong in pronunciation. These are indicative of rustic language used in common parlance, have no sequence and seem to be without any import or meaning.

2. They are not required to be observed under any code, style or procedure, and require to premeditative rituals, sacrifice or any cumbersome procedure, as is the case with Vedic mantras.

3. There is consideration to piety, purification, prayer, worship, obeisance, cleanliness or observance of any strict code and mode, as is bindingly imperative in Vedic mantras.

4. Vedic mantras are worship and obeisance oriented, each mantra, being attributed to a specific deity, to accomplish a specific aim, and the aspirant prays, beseeches and seeks benevolence of his deity for achieving the desired result. But Shabar mantras are at total variance with Vedic mantras, where the aspirant orders his deity, on whom the former reigns and orders his deity as a master orders his servants and that also in a challenging tone, as 'Getup, Proceed; 'Do this work' and if you do perform, you will be cursed and punished.

5. Chaste, Cultured and sober language is used in Vedic mantras whereas in Shabar mantras a Sort of abusive and rough language is used and the aspirant compels his deity to do his desired work failing which the aspirant will inflict curses on him. The words and terms used, by an aspirant are so derogatory, rustic that a cultured person would shun and avoid averment of such words. The deity is warned that, if he fails to do the assigned job, he will bring dishonour and disrespect to his mother, teacher, lord etc.

6. Devotion to preceptor is the salient feature of these mantras and he never forgets his guru. Those who follow Shabar mantras place their preceptor at a higher pedestal than of God. It has been said,

"There is no person greater than the Guru because Guru can accomplish such feats and achievement which even the creator of the universe is incapable of achieving."

As Guru and his name are replete with an unbound divine power, that is why the aspirants have complete faith and unusual devotion and faith in him and his capability and it is high unique strength that enables a person to derive instant mileage.

7. Experts in Shabar mantras have tremendous self confidence. They are accomplished 'Aghorees' fearless, courageous and arrogant. They are also arrogant about their prowess and, that is the reason, it is repeated in every mantra that Guru's prowess and dedication are primary and God's power is secondary. It all proves that self-power is the core factor of these mantras.

8. There is another peculiar feature. That is each word in the mantra is treated as if spoken by God himself. Invoked deity or God's existence has been recognized separately but, at the end of the mantra, God's omnipresence omniscience, have been recognized and accepted. This peculiar feature cannot be traced in any mantra where deity's prowess deity and omniscient almighty God are simultaneously remembered. I am reminded of a story, appearing in the kenopanished, who I watch procedure underlying the Shabar Mantras, which runs as follows.

In ancient time a battle ensued between the gods and demons where, by God's grace, the Gods emerged victorious, though the gods were merely a tool and they had won due to God's grace only but the gods overlooked this stark reality. The Gods reeled under the pseudo self pride, thinking that victory came their way due to this own mights. So they thought they are superior to almighty God and this feeling charged them with arrogance and pseudo sense of superiority. God thought that they will become inactive if these hyper pseudo notions remained embedded in their mind. Hence, in order to dispel such feelings, the benevolent God appeared in the form a Divine 'Daksha' who was lustrous and having a huge body. His lustre and light entire universe became lustreless. All the deities were wonder struck and got eager to know the actuality. Realizing deities mental resolve, Agni deva came to Dakhsha and told, "I am all famous Agni (Fire heat) and my name is 'Jata Veda'. I have been sent here to know about the mystery shrouding you. Kindly enlighten me who you are and what are your demands?" Showing his ignorance Yaksha said, "So you are Agnideva?" But, let me know about your prowess and what you are capable of doing?" This remark inflated Agnideva's ego and again said, "I am a unique power having fire as my trait and light in this universe is because of me alone. If I desire I can reduce entire universe into a heap of ashes." Yaksha smiled at the boastful claim of Agnideva and placed a dry straw of grass before him and said, "You are so powerful to burn anything.. Please ignite this straw." Agnideva got enraged due to his being invoked at. He wanted to burn the straw but when he failed he applied all its force but could not ignite the straw. It was not possible because capability to burn is provided by almighty God. But his ego stood in his way to let him realise the stark reality, resultantly his head hung with shame and he returned to the deities in a dazed form.

When Agnideva failed to achieve his end, the deities sent the all-powerful 'Vayudeva' for the same purpose. He came near Yaksha and introduced himself "I am the famous Vayu and my mystical and glorious name is Matrishva. If I wish I can blow off entire universe within an iota of a second." Yakhsha put a tiny straw before him and required him to blow of the tiny straw. Vayudev took the challenge as an insult and applied all his might but could not budge the straw because almighty 'God had restrained his prowess. He also went back disheartened like Agnideva and felt ashamed.

When both the said Gods failed to assess prowess of Yakhsha, Lord of Gods, Indra, himself went there for the purpose but, as he reached there Yakhsha disappeared and there was an oracle which spoke, "O deities! You must give up the false pride of your independent strength. It is God who charges power into Fire (Agni) and Wind (Vayu) and without Him their powers has no independent power. God's power cannot be perceived through eyes, rather it is due to God's grace that eyes are empowered to visualise an object. No person can listen to any sound, except when hearing capability is imparted to the ears by God. Who is omniscient and omnipresent, subtler than the subtlest, unperishable, cause of birth. He is such an 'indesinable entity that persons of high calibre and divinity can feel and understand Him."

This incident dispelled pseudo egoistic feeling of deities about there power, capability and exposed the hollowness of their tall claims. It can be easily presumed that the writer of the Shabar mantras, Shabar nath Swami, must also have realized multiple qualities and powers of almighty God and that may be the reason why he did not forget to pay obeisance to Him (who is the causative factor in creation of this universe, and is the source of energy and activity, is the supreme reality and all functions are his attributes) alongwith the cherished deity.

Even though we have a large collection of Shabar mantras which, if one chooses to publish, would assume the form of a huge and voluminous book yet, for the sake of brevity and for actual benefit of our learned readers. We have picked up some very selective mantras which have generally been tested and verified for their quick results. If our readers resort to any of the methods, suggested hereafter and have experienced some laudable and favourable results, we would like to enlightened of the same. Readers are most welcome to approach our office as and when they are faced with any problem and difficulty, for proper advice and guidance.

Shabar mantras can be divided into following sub-divisions that is those are practised to accomplish these desires.

1. For peace and tranquility
2. strength
3. gravitation
4. attraction
5. Fascination
6. Restricting or impeding an adversary's progress
7. Create rift
8. Separation and
9. Killing.

In addition, milk, pure ghee (clarified butter), sesamum (Til), figs, wood of fag tree and kheer, should be used in addition to use of a gold(en) Vessel or Navratina. These are the basic requirements for performing this ritual and except where specifically advised/ mentioned, the said articles and method of worship will remain the same though there are any hard and fast rule in recitation of Shabar Mantras.

Process -

Burn 'Ashapuri' Dhoop, broom the patient in the morning, afternoon and evening (thrice) and each time recite the mantra seven times. If this process is continued for 21 days, the paralytic patient will get cured. But all along the period of this practice 'khejari' must be saturated with water thrice daily. If the patient fully recovers, it is necessary to perform 'Utara' which means the eatables and other articles kept near the patient must be kept at a crossing of a road-but it must precede the recovery stage.

Process for incantation (Utaaraa)

Before brooming process is initiated it is necessary to perform 'Utaaraa' and then, start the brooming process from Sunday. Prepare a powder of wheat flour ($1\frac{1}{4}$ kgs.) add ghee, sugar and 'Khoya' (thick condensed milk) and fry all the ingredients with plenty of pure ghee. Now process a thick loaf from the mixture ($1\frac{1}{4}$ kg quantity) and offer to lord Hanuman. Take seven new pot shells (or Theekaris)- placing black vermillion or soft cakes first, then seven cakes of vermillion and finally rest of the Choorma' - putting equally quantity of each ingredient in each potshell. Put one piece each of 'Kharak', betelnut, Kaajal, Vermillion, Cardamon, clove and chalchashila in a folded paper and place one such folded paper having all the said ingredients, on each heap of potshell. Burn Ashapuri Dhoop and let its smoke passover such potshells, spread a cotton sheet cushion on the cradle made of dankoli and be tied to a 'Khejari' plant which should always be watered from a new pitcher's water. But do not talk with anybody while going or on your return. After saturation, bring back the pitcher and keep it at a secure place so that it does not crack/ break. Place a coconut (Mawaria) at the canopy and then distribute pieces of its kernel to kids. If the said process is followed in the given direction it will cast away ill impact of paralysis and also evil effect of any wicked soul.

It is necessary for the wizard to first protect himself by resorting to the method of 'Dehabandhan' and 'Atma Raksha (self protection) before he sets out to cure any patient. If the snake emerges out, do not kill it, rather leave it at some secluded place.

Process

This process has to be continued for 21 days. During the course of this process a day will come when the grass will automatically catch fire-it is a time to presume that Aagiya Vetal has appeared. In some cases, he assumes a gigantic form also, but there is no need to get scared at all. If you are terrified, the deity will go back. As soon as he appears, offer him five types of dry fruits currants, dried dates, almonds, sapida (chiraunjia) and fruits of pine tree (chilgoza). Pay regards to him with devotion and faith and address him like this, "O powerful vaital! Kindly be seated on my tongue and tone down your process." There are three body organs where vaital can seat himself, viz left hand's thumb, eyes and tongue. If he is seated in the tongue, he will appear as and when requested and causes fire at the desired place (as indicated by his devotee), and puts himself on the job.

This practice, in the form of worship, can be performed at night only, while standing in a navel deep water-this way this yields instant results.

While keeping your face towards the southern direction, cut the betel leaves, from mid-part, into seven pieces- start cutting from the top side of betel stem and then proceed to cut the rest part of betel leaves. When no portion of betel leaves is left to cut, it is an indication that aspirant is heading towards an obstacle, the ill effect, which can be offset by recitation of 108 Gayatri Mantras. The person, whose name is written on the betel leaf, will meet his end. Before writing the enemy's name on the betel leaf, it is imperative to read mantra of 'Praan Pratishthaa'. Use of 'Sanjeewan Mantra to offset damaging impact of Moonth.

ॐ नमो संजीवन, जीवन चढण, जिन गुरु आजी, तिण चरी-चरी।

If water is sanctified with this mantra and given to an affected person, he will start to speak, even if once. But before resorting to this practice, one must make sure to protect his body by reciting - Keelan Mantra' otherwise the practitioner (aspirant) is liable to suffer. Of all the 'Moonths', 'Agni Moonth' is the most 'damaging' and fatal device. If you see an 'Agni Moonth' Charging or advancing towards you, you should take out blood out of your ring finger (Anamika) and sprinkle the same over your body, and then recite 'Atma Rakhsa Mantra' (Mantra for self protection). This way the earthen vessel (Handia), containing, moonth' will lose its effectivity and fall upon the ground.

Note - The said mantras, devices and related, ritual based, formalities are not only difficult to perform, but are capable of killing the aspirant, if he ventures to take recourse thereto without any expert's guidance and advice. Hence, never do yourself, rather engage an expert for the purpose, so as to avoid chances of any damage, loss or harm. This warning applies equally in the case of all the preceding and following mantras and devices. You may not gain anything if you can desist from such devices, but you are liable to suffer, even death, if performed wrongly and without following requisite and laid down/procedure.

If this mantra is recited in the reverse course, it will impart salvation to an

If the following portion is added to the 'Namokar Mantra', then it becomes a protective device (mantra). This mantra, with black thread having five knots, should be worn by an aspirant so that he remains fully protected.

Yantra

'Yantra' holds a supreme status amongst all the occult sciences and disciplines and 'Tantra' and 'Mantra' are the elements which help it. Hence Yantra is an entry gate to all the occult sciences and result oriented accomplishments, and yantras are an abiding places of all deities whose seat lies at some place, direction, region or zone corner or angle and they feel elated at their designated places in a yantra but in the centre place of a yantra resides the chief deity who is installed and worshipped at that place. Yantra is the body of a mantra wherein the laid down ritual related practices lie hidden in the same way as a building is hidden in house plan (diagram) or a tree is hidden in a seed. There exist certain intricate yantras, like the mantras, which are protected by protective worship. On the contrary there are certain yantra which yield instant and desired results to an aspirant even when simply glanced by him. Shri yantra, Gayatri yantra and Bhairava yantra fall under this category, as merely an observance thereof yields auspicious results. The scholars have laid stress on the fact that there is practically no distinction between a yantra and deity, in the same way as body and soul, though looking apart, are still the same - this may be the reason as to why the deities never feel appeased, without the yantra being worshipped.

There are certain yantras, which are based on numerical numbers (though duly sanctified), and no worship is required to achieve the desired results and results have enthralled and amazed even many persons. Our ascetics and sages have achieved such amazing results which spell-bound the onlookers - 'Beesaa' and 'Panchdashi' yantras can be reckoned in this category. In short we can easily conclude yantras, like mantras, are replete with tremendous potential. For the guidance and benefit of our discerning and scholarly readers, we are mentioning, herein after, only those highly powerful and miraculous yantras which have proved true and effective. I can only assure that the yantras and related details are authentic, true and fully experimented and tested, so to say, but we are not accountable if the desired results fail to ensue favourable results or there are failures, because success depends on total adherence and practice to which every person can measure. It has been aptly declared by our scholars -

An infallible 'SHRI YANTRA' to Acquire Wealth, Money and Prosperity

॥ Shri Yantra ॥

To acquire wealth, prosperity, leisure, pleasure and riches 'Shri Vidya' and 'SHRI YANTRA' hold a unique and unassailable status 'Shri Vidya' is also known by the name of 'Shataa-khshri Param Vidya' whose basic mantra consists of only one hundred words and if an aspirant continuously repeats this yantra for 100 times, he will accomplish his desire instantaneously. Shrimali Brahmins have been in possession of this knowledge from their lineage, as goddess of prosperity, wealth, Lakhshmi, is worshipped in these families as a family deity- this is the reason as to why the pundits and scholars, who are adept in this knowledge, are all known as 'Shrimali Brahmins'.

My lamented father used to relate many interesting episodes relating to 'Shri Vidya'. He disclosed that gold slabs, buried under the foundation of renowned Somnath temple, in Saurashtra, had been inscribed with this yantra, and due to this reason the Shrimali Brahmins used to worship there with 'Panchopchaar' method - this is the reason behind the presence of wealth there as, even the pillars were studded with gems and stones ammounting to millions of rupees. Mohammed Ghaznavi got allured by immense wealth in the temple, so he plundered the temple, fragmented all gem-studded in pillars, resulting in fragmented distortion and so breakage of this yantra. Since then, this temple is now without 'Shri Yantra'. During my sojourn to south India, I visited Tirupati Balaji temple where I noticed the inscription of this yantra at the back of the idol and is being still worshipped as per laid down parametres. Even now income of this holy place runs into billions, even though the temple is under control of the state government.

Method of worship of Shri yantra is a universal found-ation of worship of other yantras. There is a succinct reference to its mode of worship 'Tripropanishad', detailed and nomenclated as 'Kadihadi' Vidyas. In south India, it is the most prevalent discipline of knowledge (pertaining to 'Shri Vidya'), Shri Shankaracharya is deemed to an incarnation of lord Shiva. He has explained the piety and utility of this knowledge in 'Saundarya Lahari' and 'Prapanchsar'. This knowledge was passed on to Shri Govindapacharya by Shankar acharya, the former acharya's guru (Teacher), Shri Gauda Padacharya, received this knowledge from none other than lord Dattatraya himself. Hence this is the most ancient knowledge.

There is a tradition that a desciple should visit a household of some brahmin and beseech for donation of alms, in the form of food and eatables. In accordance with this laid down norm/tradition acharya Shankar visited the house of a brahmin for seeking food but the poor fellow had not even a fistful of rice to offer. The brahmin's wife weepingly put a myroblan (AMLA) at the hand of the beggar and related her woeful story of extreme penury. Her lamentation moved Shanker emotively. He, while standing there invoked the presence of goddess, Lakhshmi by chanting hymns in her praise. His prayer was so forceful and appealing that she herself appeared before Shankar, and said, My son, I know your motive but this poor Brahmin did not perform any noble deed nor even offered any donation to anyone in the previous life, and these negative factors have bound my hands to help these poor people.

The acharya in a beseeching tone told the goddess, "It hardly matters whether this brahmin didn't do any noble deed in his previous life but he has performed a noble deed now by offering an 'Amla' to a beggar like me, even if nothing else was left for his family to eat, hence he has earned nobility which is a sufficient factor for you to relieve this family of its penury."

Shankar's argument and appeal disarmed, as it were, the goddess who was then, kind enough to shower riches in the form of 'golden Amlas' in plenty on the brahmin. Thereafter the acharya, returned to his guru's ashram. When the brahmin lady got up next morning, she was thrilled to see golden amlas scattered everywhere in the house. This episode has been detailed in the IV canto of 'Shankar Digvijaya'. So it can be easily concluded that not only 'Shri Vidya' bestows riches and prosperity upon a person but even the devotees of Shri Vidya are also capable of bestowing their favours on the needy persons. To understand Shri Vidya it is necessary to understand, as a first step, what norms are required to be adhered to by the (prespective) devotees: if any person performs worship of this yantra, with complete devotion and humility, most of the aspirants acquire plenty of money and wealth, and it has been noticed time and again.

Progress and submergence of entire universe is attributed and assigned to Shri Vidya. Human body's measurement measures upto the length of 96 fingers, hence all the units of this yantra also measure upto 96 fingers' length and the centre point (dot) is indicative of basic 'Shakti'. First central angular point is said to be the seat of 'Shambhu' eight angles denote/signify presence/seat of Ashta Vasu(s), sixteen petals represent sixteen parts of moon's division which merge into eight phases/parts of moon, the three lines denote conquering of all the three worlds, and the four doors are the entry point to all the four directions by which a devotee can acquire all the riches and comforts. This yantra attracts the wealth conferring rays in the orbit, which attract the electrons. The electrons, aided by these rays, reflect on a person's body, thereby glorifying and shining his facial appearance and the place of worship.

There are, in all, 43 corners or angles in the yantra, including four straight and three reverse angles. If a devotee recites 'Shri Sukta', he will appease Lakhshmi who bestows her riches and wealth over him. But tangible results cannot be attained without the assistance and guidance of a 'guru'. The scholars maintain that even God himself cannot derive any mileage nor succeed in the mission, if Guru's help is not forthcoming.

So much has been written about this yantra in 'Tantrik' literature and treatises, that the description outstrips the description of all other yantras. Every month I receive number of letters from the inquisitive readers, about guiding them as to which is the most appropriate and subtle mantra which should be recited for deriving quickest and optimum mileage out of such a mantra. For the benefit and guidance of my discerning readers, I quote, hereunder, the rarest mantra—

"ॐ श्रीं ह्रीं कृत्तीं ह्रीं श्रीं महालक्ष्मी नमः।"

Experiment and Process

Those who are capable of performing 'Avaran Pooja' should utilise 'Shri Yantra' alongwith 'Beeja Mantras'. According to the scholars gold and silver metals are the abode(s) of Lakhshmi, hence the mantra should be engraved/inscribed on golds or silver plates/sheets, because it is easy to reinstall and decorate them. If a ring is made of gold, silver and copper/tri-metal/and Shri Yantra is inscribed thereon, it is more effective. Our office has given processed rings to the aspirants and the results have been thrilling and marvellous. If this yantra is written with 'Ashtagandha' (eight fragrances) on a 'Bhojpatra' and kept in the purse, the purse will over flow with currency notes, and this is tested and authentic experiment.

Shri Mahalakhshmi Yantra

If you careful watch, study and observe the diagram, given hereinafter, you can derive the desired favourable benefits, provided the relevant requirements are fully complied with.

Make a sketch of Lakhshmi who is shown seated upon a lotus throne, is served by (intoxicated) elephants, her face is cheerful, draw margins on all sides so to close all the corners, draw a hexagon, a circle and an eight-petalled lotus. If the picture is not handy or cannot be sketched, the same can be substituted with only the yantra being written in the centre. Such a diagram of Lakhshmi is called as 'Jyeshtha Lakhshmi'. If Mahalakhshmi is shown seated, and is being sprinkled water by the elephants from both sides, with the aid of two golden vessels, she will be called 'Gajalakhshmi'. To initiate the process of worship, keep a photo of Lakhshmi in front of you and complete 1/1/4 lac recitations of the following mantra within forty days, but use a string-bead (Mala) of lotus seed (Kamalgatta). After conclusion of recitation and other related rituals, the adherant's wishes get fulfilled. This way this mantra can be validated and sanctified. on the final day of worship, offer leaves of bael tree.

Shri Mahalakshmi Yantra

lotus leaves or herbs saturated with milk or with kheer at the havan. (sacrificial fire, oblation). Also serve white food eatables to five pious virgin girls- this way, if all the requirements are fully complied with and completed, both the mantra and yantra get validated, whereafter the devotee's financial position will improve, his business will progress, prosperity enhance, and money will flow in from all sources and directions. The aspirant will become more agile, active and, above-all a high profile prosperous and wealthy person.

Mantra

ॐ श्री ह्रीं श्रीं कमलातये प्रसीद,
प्रसीद श्रीं ह्रीं श्रीं ॐ महालक्ष्म्यै नमः।

Words fail to describe the significance and greatness of Gayatri mantra which is considered to be the top-most mantra out of all other mantras. Sketch a picture of Gayatri having five mouths, eight arms, seated on a lotus throne, and in a blessing appearance. She should be covered with 'Bhoopoor', a dot, triangle, reverse hexagon and eight lotus petals. Write the word 'तत्' on all the eight petals (start with भुवः) 'OM' on the middle dot, 'भूः' on the central angle of triangle, and 'भुवः' on left and 'स्वः' on right side respectively. After doing this much, instal this mantra on some 'auspicious day and recite 1½ lac mantras of Gayatri, using a string-bead of Rudrakhsh beads. Recite 12,500 mantras at the time of sacrifice, and offer sesamum barley, raw sugar, sweetmeats and fragrant herbs (all combined and mixed up together) and make an offering at the sacrificial fire. At the time of final offering (Poornaahuti) wear a sacred thread (Yagyo paveeta) and entertain 5,11 or 21 brahmins. This is how Gayatri mantra can be validated. When Gayatri goddess gets pleased, the devotee not only attains and acquires wordly riches and achievements but also attains supernatural and spiritual attainments, apart from a celestial personality, sharp intellect and receptive power; an effective oratory and capability to curse and bless others.

Gayatri Mantra

ॐ भूर्भुवः स्वः तत्सवितुर्वरिण्यं
भर्गो देवस्य धीमहि धियो योनः प्रचोदयात् ।

If a pictorial Gayatri Yantra is not handy, reproduce the above yantra on a leave of bark tree or a copper sheet. This yantra has ten sub-divisions such as, 1. Dot. (Bindu), 2. Triangle, 3. Circle, 4. eight petals, 5. Hexagon, 6. Two circles, 7. again two circles 8. again eight petals, 9. again eight petals and 10. 'Bhoopoor'. If all the descriptions, given above, are incorporated, it constitutes 'Mahaan Gayatri Yantra' but it must be installed by some scholarly brahmin who is fully adept in and conversant with the laid down procedure. If an aspirant wears yellow clothes, sacred thread, eats only pious and pure food, maintains celibacy and keeps on fast for 40 days, recites 1/1/4 lack Gayatri mantras then only goddess will get appeased whereafter she will be pleased to fulfil all the desires of the aspirant, whatever what his demands are. It is only due to the sober and appealing impact of the goddess that a person attains celestial glamour, gets disenchanted and withdrawn from worldly affairs and devotes himself to the service of other people, apart from being a spiritual person.

Miraculous Yantras for fulfillment of various desires.

BAGLA YANTRA - FOR DECIMATION OF ENEMIES

(अद्भुत सिद्धिदायक शत्रुनाशक बगला-यन्त्र)

Ours is an era of struggle and ambition, when there is a mad race to surpass all other persons. There is no envy, affection and attachment, rather these noble qualities have been replaced by jealousy, hatred and ill will, resultantly we witness everywhere emergence of strife, struggle, restivity, hatred, violence, paucity, insensitivity, fiends, interracial struggles have given vent to litigation, mutual acrimony and quarrels in petty matters, and all such negative activities forebode mental torture and fear psychosis.

In such odd and unfavourable situations tormented, hapless and forlorn people can seek solace and support from worship of Baglamukhi. All the believers in 'Mantra', 'Tantra', 'Yantra', the sages and ascetics concur that a person can stay happy, peaceful, safe and reassured when he has no enemies nor the enemies are in a position to take better of him. Hence to emerge victorious in legal cases, defeat the enemies, and tame the adversaries in competition, art of oratory, criticism, to embrace success, to enhance prestige and activity, to nail the enemies, this yantra is an unquestioned and reliable device.

Business persons have been seen to use this yantra for progress in business related activities, political leaders for harming their rivals and general public for favourable judicial verdict and success.

I have experimented with this yantra once or twice during my life time and also performed it for one or two persons and results were favourable. Since then my faith in the capability of this yantra has grown immensely.

But, remember, the performance of this device must never adhered to, in order to torment and harm gentle and faultless persons, rather it should be employed to seek favour of an officer, to help an innocent person for being punished, to seek freedom from bondage, to defeat an adversary, to motivate an offer to give a verdict in your favour etc.

If, however, the aspirant, even after following the laid down norms and practices, fails to derive any tangible and favourable result, then it is advisable to give up the practice at once. If, despite the infavourable results, you still persist with continuing the performance, due to your sticky nature, you might succeed in your mission, but you have to bear the brunt for wrong indiscretion. If an obstinate and obdurate child continues to demand a certain object from his mother who, under a fit of anger and frustration, may deliver the desired object to her child but she can also slap him - this is my personal experience in this regard. A wise person understands this and takes note of the adverse results but an obstinate and infuriated person suffers the consequences in the form of death of a son, wife or even his own death. In my opinion, there are three reasons which necessitate emergence of the said painful episodes, viz

1. The person, against whom the yantra is targeted to be employed, may be an upright, pious and innocent/faultless person.
2. The targeted person, against whom this yantra is intended to be used, may himself be an ardent follower/devotee of the goddess.
3. You may yourself be flouting the laid down principles and procedures including wrong pronunciation, erratic and faulty ritual performance or you may not be competent to perform the ritual.

Rules relating to performance of this yantra

Never perform worship under open sky, nor in the terrace of the house, nor while wearing any stitched cloth, nor while wearing only cloth. There must be, at least, two clothes-one Dhoti' and one small wear/like an underwear or so.

The aspirant should sit on a yellow seat; yellow flowers and yellow rice should be used during worship. Use only a string bead of 108 turmeric (pieces) beads, if it is possible, otherwise use a string bead of 54,36,27 or 9 beads of turmeric Food - Take milk, tea, fruits or dry fruits at noon. At night take 'Kheer' with saffron, laddoos of 'Besan' (gram flour) yellow vegetables, using black salt and black pepper in the cooked vegetable. Red chillies must never be used. During worship period, the devotee should observe celibacy in word, deed and thought and recite 1½ lakh mantras. Recite 1/10th number of mantras at the end of performance through yagya in the form of libation of water, 1250 mantras to be recited at the time of 'Marjan' (cleaning), wiping) and then entertain 125 Brahmins. But, do not forget to keep picture of goddess Baglamukhi in front of your eyes, during the entire period of performance and also that no other person should sight/see you performing this worship.

Method to use Bagla Mantra

First of all resort to 'Bhoo-ta-Shuddhi' and then 'Atma Shuddhi'. Then take Coins, (money) rice, flowers and water in your hand and make a resolve (Sankalpa). At the end of resolve add this mantra-

'मम समस्त सद् अभीष्ट सिद्धर्थं..... (यहाँ कार्य प्रयोजन को कहें) श्री भगवती पीताम्बराया श्री वगलामुखी देव्या: यथा लब्ध्योपचारेण पूजनमहं करिष्ये"

After reciting the above mantra, release water, rice etc and then speak out four object to attain a particular end (vinyoga).

Vinyog Mantra

'ॐ अस्यश्री वगलामुखी व्रह्मास्य विद्या मंत्रस्य नारायण क्रपिः अनुष्टुपछन्दः वगलामुखी देवता वीजम् कलींशकिल हृलीलकः वगलामुखी प्रसन्नार्थे जपे विनियोगः'

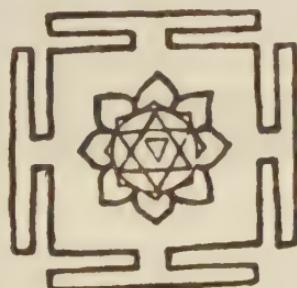

Nyaasa (Pledge)

'ॐ ह्रीं अंगुष्ठाभ्यानमः ॥ ॐ ह्रीं मध्यमाभ्यानमः ॥ ॐ हं ह्रीं अनामिकाभ्यानमः ॥ ॐ ह्रीं कनिछिकाभ्यानमः ॥ ॐ ह्रीं करतलकरपृष्ठाभ्यानमः ॥'

Emancipation of yantra

A dot in the mid centre, then a reverse triangle, a hexagonal circle, circle of eight petals, sixteen and 'Bhoopur'. If this specific yantra, in the form and order suggested above, inscribed on a bark leave (Bhojpatra), copper or gold plate, then it is said to be more effective. When decimation of a specific enemy is the sole factor for performance of this ritual, then substitute the word ह्रीं with ह्रीं

Worship of the yantra

Take some rice grains in your hand, fix your concentration on the central dot of the yantra and recite this mantra-

"ॐ नमो नित्ये वगलामुखी एहि-एहि मण्डल मध्ये अवतर-अवतर सान्तिथं
कुरु-कुरु स्वाहा महापद्म वनालस्ये कारणानन्द विग्रहे। सर्वभूत हिते मातरेहि परमेश्वरी।
देवीशिभक्ति सुलभे परिवार समन्विते यावदत्त्वं पूजयिष्यामि तावदत्त्वं सुस्थिरा भवः।"
(चावल यत्र पर छोड़ दें।)

Then place rice on the yantra

Mantra for meditation (Dhyaana)

सौवर्णासन संस्थिता त्रिनयनां पीनांशुकोत्तासिनी ।
हेमाभाङ्गरूपिं शशांक मुकुटा सच्चम्पकत्रयुताम् ॥
हर्तैर्मुदगर पाशवद्व ग्रसनां संविभूतीं भृपणं ।
व्यानांगी वगलामुखीं त्रिनगतां संस्तम्भिनीं चिन्तये ॥

Thereafter, perform 'shodshopchaar' worship. Then keep an idol of Baglamukhi or the yantra and perform ceremony to impart life (Prana Pratishtha) to the idol or vantra. Then invoke presence of 'Bhagwati' Bagla by offering some coins

Invocation Mantra

Shri Baglamukhi Devi

मध्ये सुधाब्धिमणिमण्डप रलवेदी सिंहासनोपरिगताम्परिपीत वर्णाम् ॥
पीताम्बराभरणमाल्यविभूक्षिताङ्गीदेवीब्रह्मामिधृतमुदगर वैरिजिह्वाम् ॥

Now inculcate the feeling in your mind the form of the goddess, 'Baglamukhi' (Devi) viz : she is seated on gem and diamond studded throne, is having a yellow lustrous appearance, decorated with jewellery ornaments, is drawing out her enemy's tongue with her left hand and is attacking him with an Indian club (Gadaa). After imagining her above detailed form, at once pay obeisance to her.

Mantra for adoration

जिह्वाग्रमादाय करेण देवी व्वामेन शत्रुन्परिपीडयन्तीम् ॥
गदाभिधातेन च दक्षिणेन पीताम्बरगदयान्द्वभुजाम्ब्रमामि ॥

Then mentally worship the goddess. After this start reciting the fundamental or basic, mantra which is as follows.

Mool Mantra (Basic/fundamental Mantra)

ॐ हौं वगलामुखि सर्वदुष्टानां वाचम्मुखं स्तम्भय-स्तम्भय, जिह्वाकीलय, वक्त्रिन्नाशय हौं ॐ स्वाहा ।

Entire procedure, as indicated and detailed above, will complete the process of 'Sadhana' (devotion worship) of the deity. Some people also add their enemy's name to this mantra and this has also been observed to be effective, rather instantaneously. It has been explained in 'Durvasa-Tantra' that all the noble, wealthy, rich persons, rulers and Kings, who have' penchant for battles, should wear 'Baglamukhi Yantra'. Maharishi Angari, the renowned scholar and ascetic, has written a critical commentary on 'Kritya' (black magic, Sorcery). According to him if any person is wearing baglamukhi yantra', his 'Pratyangira' Shakti enables him to cause return of the sorcery to his adversary, resulting in decimation of the person who has done this evil act.

According to Mahidhar, the commentator, if any hostile or inimical person has resorted to any type of sorcery, with a view to decimate his enemy, his evil act can recoil on the evil designer, if the targeted person is wearing Baglamukhi yantra. The wearer of this yantra attains miraculous benefits of fame, activity and prestige. This yantra can be worn in the right hand in the form of a ring finger, and a ring made out of trimetal is all the more powerful. Bagla yantra can also be worn around the neck or over the bicept of right arm. A person, who is wearing this yantra, will find his enemy himself approaching and beseech his friendship.

A charm (Spell) for curing paralysis

Get a ring processed out of hoof of a totally black horse and let the paralytic person wear the same. After wearing this ring the patient will never suffer from any paralytic attack, thereafter or till he dies. But hoof procurement, ring processing and wearing must be done on any sunday, during 'Pushya Nakshatra'. Even if latent or initial symptoms of paralysis are noticed in a person, the same can be prevented if the suggested ring is worn at the inception stage, but the underlying pre-requisites must be complied with Carefully and intently observe the following diagram of this yantra which is designed for all the rituals and practices attributed to sun. This yantra has a dot, a hexagon, eight petals and 'Bhoopoor' and is rightly called and known as Siddha Surya Mahamantra. If the ceremony of 'Prana Pratishttha' is practised after which the devotee should worship this yantra, his self-power and confidence will enhance, his father will enjoy a long life, status will elevate in the eyes of the ruler, one can get job, his eye-sight will also improve. Inscribe this mantra with 'Ashtagandha' (eight fragrances) on the festival of Diwali or Dussehra, on the bark leave or a silver sheet and then there should be 'Prana' Pratishttha of this yantra. After performing the said procedure this yantra should be kept in a treasure chest, Almirah or at the place of worship. Recite fundamental (mool) Mantra 1008 times and then perform sacrifice with 108 recitations of this mantra, recite 11 mantras at the time of libation and wiping. Shri Lakshmi Ganesh Mahayantra

वीजापूरगदेक्षुकार्मुकरूजा चक्राब्जपाशोत्यल,

Fundamental Mantra

ॐ श्रीं ह्रीं कर्तीं ग्लौं गं गणपतये वर वरदे सर्वजनं मैं वशमानय स्वाहा ।

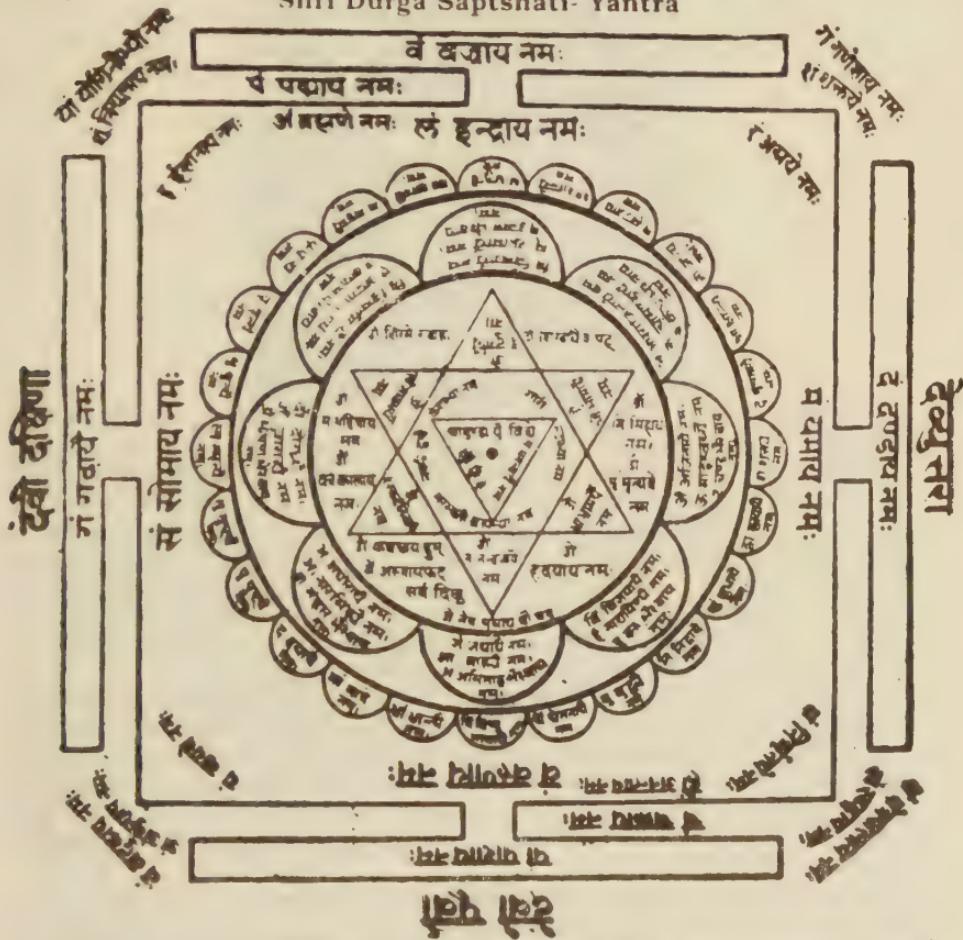

Inscribe this yantra on a bark leave and use 'Ashtagandha' for writing and also write the name of the person (inplace of 'द्वन्द्व') who is desired to be turned in your favour. Than keep this yantra in your turban, cap/hat or tie in a wearing cloth. Remember your deity and then go to the desired person, your aim will be accomplished.

Deepak yantra

This yantra contains all the vowels and consonants of Devnagri script and it is credited with divine power due to its miraculous fame and effects. The yantra may be inscribed on copper or silver plate or on a bark leave. Get the same framed. If 'Panchopchar' worship is performed on the lamp (Diya), 'deepak' is kept in the centre of the circle, the devotee acquires instant success in achieving his aim. These yantras themselves become effective, due to their capacity to cause obstruction. Do not forget to keep fragrant flowers and rice near the lamp.

Shri Durga Saptshati- Yantra

One cannot accomplish any result unless this yantra consists of triangles, hexagon, eight petals, twenty four petals and 'Bhoopoor', as directed in the treatises. If ceremony of concentration should be performed and Durga is worshipped daily, the aspirant is bestowed with instant success. This yantra is installed on the highest pedestal of worship while performing rituals pertaining to Shatchandi, Lakhsha chandi and Durga through sacrifice. For the last 50 years this yantra, inscribed on a 9" x 9" square sheet of silver, remains installed in our worship place, and we have experienced highly beneficial and miraculous results.

Shri Batuk Bhairava Yantra

According to 'Shivsaagarsaar', Batuk Bhairava gets appeased without delay, (whereas other deities get appeased after prolonged worship) and the outcome is rather instant. Before embarking worship of Batuk Bhairava, the aspirant should resort to 'Veer-Shanti' because without worshipping Bhaironnath, the desired aims remain unaccomplished. If 1. Chanda 2. Prachand 3. Oordhvakesh 4. Bheeshan 5. Abheeshan 6. Vyomakesh 7. Vyomabaahu and 8. Vyoma Vayaapak are invoked or appeased and worshipped with suitable offerings, no obstacle occurs during worship of Batuk Bhairava. Offering of 'Deep' is desirable during the worship of Batuk Bhairava.

A Yantra, consisting of triangle, hexagon, circle and all the four directions (Corners), should be processed for Batuk worship, writing 'Shri' (श्री) in the centre, and names of all the eight Bhairavas on all the eight corners, and fundamental (base or root) mantra is written on south side. This mantra should be animated (Prana Pratishtha), whereafter recite 'Bhairava Stotra' and 10,000 mantras be recited at the time of oblation to fire.

ॐ ह्रीं बटुकाय आपदुखारण कुरु-कुरु बटुकाय ह्रीं ॐ स्वाहा ।

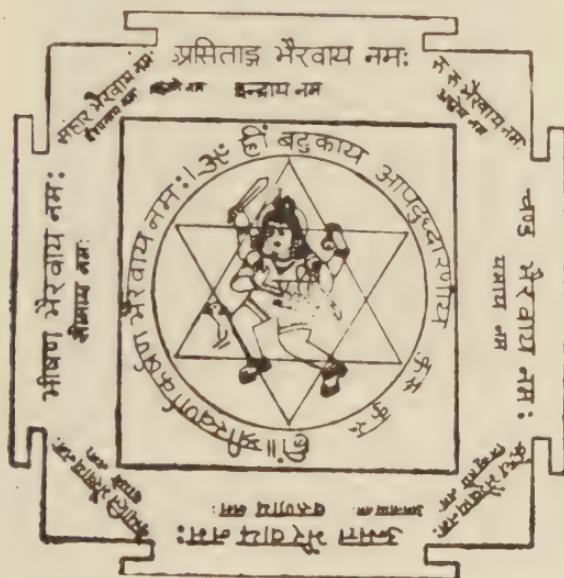

Then, as per the number of words in the mantra, 21 cotton wicks or raw cotton should be processed and ignited, food items for donation should be kept thereon, and then released in a pond or flowing water of a river- this is the process by which Bhairava can be quickly appeased, under noted mantra is to be recited when resorting to Deepak Daan'.

ॐ ह्रीं श्रीं कर्त्तीं ह्रीं श्रीं बं सर्वज्ञाय महाबलपराक्रमाय बटुकाय इम दीपं गृहाण
सर्वकार्यार्थं साधकाय दुष्टनाशय-दुष्टान्शाशय, त्राशय-त्राशय, सर्वतो मम रक्षां कुरु-कुरु

Shri Swarna Karshan Bhairava Yantra

ॐ एं कर्लीं कर्तुं हां हों हूं सः वं आपदुद्भारणाय अजायतद्व्याय लोकेश्वराय स्वर्णकर्पण
भैरवाय मम दायिन्द्रय विद्वेष्टपणाय ॐ महाभैरवाय नमः ।

This mantra should be recited 10,000 times and 1,000 recitations of the mantra be made at the time of oblation. If this procedure is adhered to, it will remove an inmate's penury and also free him of debt, bestow happiness, prosperity, apart from enriching him plenty of gold. This experiment should ideally be performed from fourth to fourteenth day of black phase of moon, when it imparts beneficial gains, apart from of kheer, wood pieces of bael tree and lotus flowers - these offerings are said to impart plenty of money and wealth to the aspirant.

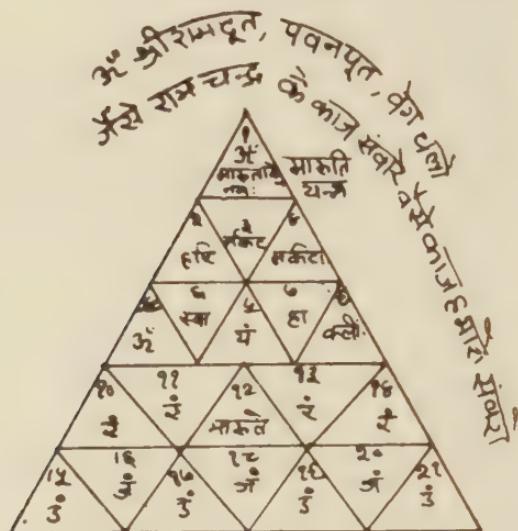

A spell to remove moles

Take as many grains of horse bean as there are moles, keep these beans in a black piece of cloth on sunday night, apply a knot in the centre and a knot on each of the sides. Now the patient should keep this cloth underneath his pillow and go to sleep. Early in the morning without uttering even a word and also without being obstructed, or confronted, spread the cloth on the surface and walk three times thereon. Thereafter, silently throw this cloth into some well. As the grains continue to decay, the moles will also start vanishing.

A miraculous yantra to ward off chances of accident through vehicles.

A miraculous yantra to dispel chances of any accident through (any) vehicle

This is an infallible Shatiar yantra which rules out and also dispels chances of any vehicular accident. Whenever any new vehicle, like car, scooter, bus, truck is purchased, affix/install this yantra at the frontal portion (say wind screen) of the newly purchased vehicle. It is a belief that lord Hanuman's blessings will not let the vehicle meet any accident, even if suddenly, when all the impending calamities will get averted, and the vehicle will reach its destination at the designated time and place, safely and without being harmed and subjected to any accident. It is a well known fact that Arjun's chariot never got, even remotely, affected during the time of Mahabharat battle, and one has reason to presume there must have been installed 'Hanuman Dhwaj' (Flag of lord Hanuman) over his chariot.

Process

Visit a Hanuman temple on any tuesday and write this yantra on a bark leave with ink of 'Ashtagandha' (a liquid of eight fragrances) or else get it engraved on a copper plate or sheet. Recite the following mantra 1008 times, offer jaggery and other offerings to lord Hanuman, including vermillion (Sindoor) and red flowers. Then keep this yantra in a 'Taabiz', having four corners, affix it to the vehicle, as suggested above, and watch for yourself the miraculous effect of this yantra.

Fundamental Mantra

ॐ मारुतात्मने नमः हरि मर्कट मर्कटाय स्वाहा,
ॐ कर्णी रं रं मारुते रं रं उं जं उं जं उं जं उं ।

This way, this yantra will serve as a protective shield for the vehicle, because its installation', is backed by sanctification of the mantra which renders it protective capability, resulting in increased profits through use of the vehicle. This experiment is fully tested, verified and factual. Such yantras have been processed at the instance and under guidance of our revered guide and teacher, Shri Dwivedi. If any person desires to procure the said yantra', he may contact us at the office of 'Agyata' Darshan'.

Khantaakaran Mahaveer

Hindus believe existence of sixty four 'Yogini's and fifty two 'Veers' and out of these 'Veers' Ghantaakaran is also a 'Veer' (Betaal) who has been accorded an important status by the (latter) followers of Jain religion. It is believed that Ghantaakaran Veer's prowess starts showing favourable results, even before the sound of bell is heard. To begin with, inscribe the following mantra on a bark leave, using 'Ashtagandha' as a writing fluid (ink) and then infuse life into it. Then sanctify this yantra on Holiday, Diwali or during eclipse by reciting 10,000 mantras. This mantra is extremely effective to ward off damaging impact of evil spirits, ghosts, fiends, witchcraft, sorcery, black magic etc. If an affected person is incanted with this mantra, with the help of a peacock feather or knife, he gets instantly relieved of the damaging impacts, cast upon him.

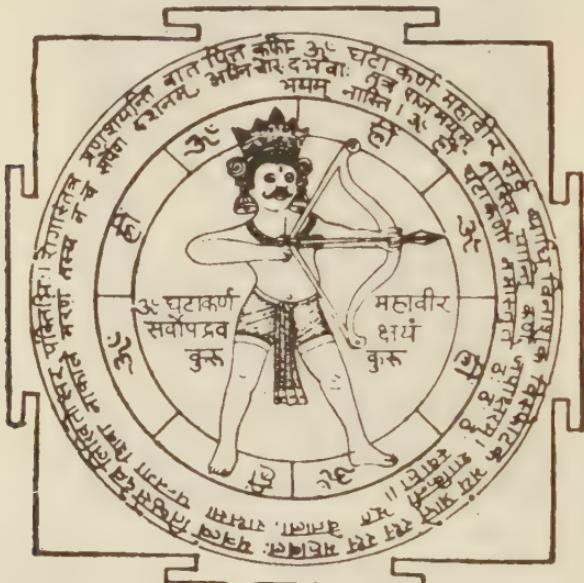

Fundamental Mantra

ॐ घण्टाकर्णो महावीरः सर्व व्याधि विनाशकम्, विस्फोटकभयम् प्रापते रथ-रक्ष महाबलः।
यत्रत्वं तिष्ठसेदेव लिखितोक्षरं पंक्तिभिः रौंगास्तत्र प्रणश्यन्ति: वातं पित्तं कफोद्भवः तत्र

स्वाहा।

Special mention

For acquiring royal favours, wealth, especially decimation of the enemies, and also to cast away damaging impact caused by ghosts and sorcery, water should be sanctified with this mantra and given to the affected person, whereafter the patient will be spared of the fear of fiends, ghosts, diseases and untimely death. This mantra proves more effective and yields quicker results when one tenth number of this mantra is sanctified by offering of guggul Dhoop, and at the time of incantation, the mantra is treated with guggul Dhoop.

Ghanta Karan Mahamantra

This mantra can be sanctified by recitation of one lakh mantras. If this mantra is intended for benefit of some other person, then write his name in place of 'अमुकस्य' and if for one's own benefit then write your own name in place of 'मम'. All the problems and upheavals can be mollified and also a particular person's prosperity and progress achieved by recitation of this mantra.

Ghantakaran Mantra to acquire wealth

ॐ ह्रीं श्रीं क्लीं ठं ॐ धण्टाकर्ण महावीर लक्ष्मी पूरय-पूरय सुख सौभाग्य कुरु-कुरु त्वाहा।

While reciting the mantra sit facing northern side, wear red scarf, use coral string bead, worship Ghantakaran yantra with red sandal, ignite Dhoop, Batesa, or fragrant sandal sticks. If laid down norms are complied with, the aspirant gains wealth quite soon.

Santaan Yantra (Yantra for being blessed with progeny).

For being blessed with a child following mantra is generally employed-

'ॐ कर्त्ता देवकी सुत गोविन्दः वासुदेव जगत्यते देहि में तन्यं कृष्ण त्वामह शरणगतः।'

This mantra should be written and sketched, as shown in the diagram, and recite 10,000 mantras, perform sacrifice, whereafter the aspirant will achieve the desired result. In addition, following methods may also be tried.

On any sunday root out 'Rasna' along with its root. Grind the plant's leaves and root with cow's milk (cow should be of one colour only) and then give the same for seven days, to a child, aged under/ upto ten years, and also give her 250 gms of cow's milk. If this practice is practised for seven days, even a barren and issueless lady will be blessed with a son.

Let Rudraksh and fragrant 'Rasna' be grinded in Cow's milk by a virgin girl (child, preferably), and given to a barren lady, for seven days, whereafter she can conceive and beget a son. This experiment should be undertaken during menstrual period only.

Pull out root of 'Sahdei' plant early in the morning, when it is Pushya Nakshatra. Soak in butter milk (Lassi) and then let it dry. Reduce the same to powder form and then do as directed above.

Root of 'Jeevopota', given with Cow's milk, help a lady to conceive.

If fibrous root of the fig tree is given to lady, with the milk of a single Coloured cow, even a barren will conceive, but it is not easy to obtain fibrous root. There is another type of tree whose fibrous root is easy to get, but get the same examined by an expert, so as to rule out chances of any confusion.

Even a barren woman can beget a son

Draw replica of a snake on the bark leave then, on the front of it, draw sketch of a peacock in the form of 'Hareenkaar'. On the mid part of the peacock (stomach site) write this mantra-

- ॐ ह्रीं गं गणपतयं मत्कुले पुत्रं देहि-देहि-पुत्रं देहि-देहि स्वाहा: ।

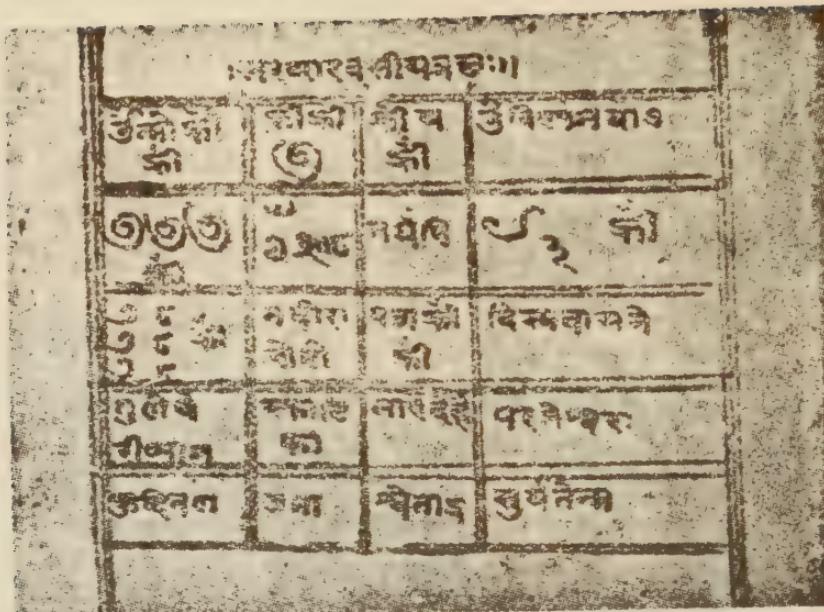

Recite this mantra 10,000 times, perform sacrifice and oblation with 10,00 mantras and, then the lady should tie this yantra around her waist, whereafter she should cohabit with her husband. If the procedure is followed in its entirety, there is every chance of (even) a barren lady being blessed with a son.

Yantra to burn ghosts, evil spirits and fiends to free a tormented person

This yantra is employed to burn the said evil spirits. Reproduce this yantra, with a black ink on a plain piece of paper, and write the name of the person in the blank square who is desired to be got freed from shackles of such evil spirits. Take 27 flowers of 'Korhi' and revolve around the inflicted person, whereafter place these flowers on the yantra- if there is evil shadow of any evil ghost, witch or fiend, it will appear in person and start speaking. Ask the affected person to gaze at the yantra, and direct the fiend to descend upon the yantra. Then, burn the yantra at once from the lower (foot) side, whereafter the evil spirit will start crying and take to its heels.

Inscribe this yantra on holy plank of wood. Ask the lady tormented by fiends/ghosts/ witches etc. to stare at the yantra. If the lady refuses to gaze at the yantra, it is a sure indication of her being over powered by some witch. If 'Guggul Dhoop' and red chillies are ignited near the yantra, then the witch will start speaking.

If the inscribed words turn red, it indicates an act of sorcery, if words turn white, the patient is shadowed by an evil spirit, if the words disappear, it indicates the person is tormented by a witch/ghost. This manuscript consists of three yantras. Small yantra on the right side should be written with Gulitaag and tied around a child's neck, when hiccups, not due to any specific cause, will disappear. If the washing of the yantra written on left hand is given to a child, he will be relieved of cough trouble. Role the paper, on which (large) third yantra is inscribed, and insert some sulphur within it. As soon as the affected person is affected by entrance of any ghost within his body ignite this yantra either the witch, fiend or ghost will make a hasty retreat or will get burnt. Inscribe this yantra (written on the top side) on a plain piece of cloth with red colour, on sunday. If this yantra is kept at a suspected place or house, where presence of evil spirits witches, fiends and ghosts is suspected, all the hell and mischiefs caused by them, will come to an end. This is a true and self-experienced experiment.

The yantra written in Arabic language, should be written with 'Ashtagandha' on 'Soothaar's Basota'(!), ignite wild thorns and warm the yantra' on fire. If this practice is adhered for three days daily, it will dispels all sorts of witch craft, sorcery or black magic.

Formulae (Charm, spell) to dispel Fever

Tie a strominium plant's root to get rid of various types of fever. Do it on sunday. If roots of 'Nirgundi' and 'Sahdevi' are tied around waist, without being obstructed, it, will tone down intensity of fever. If root of 'Chaulai' is tied around head, it will cure even incurable febrile fevers.

Write above yantra separately on two different papers and roll the same. Roll cotton around the first paper roll, to be used as wick and kept in an earthen lamp (Diya), using cow's milk.

Spell for protection against infections and eye-sight in small-pox

If henna is applied to a new born child's body and allowed to remain applied on the body for sometime and the child is bathed, his skin will be able to protect his body, and no infection would be able to manifest his skin. Similarly, if a patient is suffering from small pox his soles of feet should be applied with henna-it will ensure safety of his eyes.

(1) This yantra has dual application. If any patient is suffering from fever, get 2/1/2 threaded yarn woven on a spinning wheel. Then turn this thread into seven folds and fold it around the piece of paper on which this yantra has been written. Tie it around patient's neck, and thereafter he/she will never suffer from fever. But, this experiment should be done after fever has fully disappeared. Further, the process of weaving etc. should be performed by a virgin girl on sunday morning, when twilight has set in, but daylight is only 30 minutes old.

(2) If a person is overpowered by some ghost, tie this yantra around his neck (The yantra should be fastened to a thread) as a result of this device, the ghost will not be able to run away, rather he will get bound.

Second yantra is from Arabic language. Write this mantra on a plain paper with liquified saffron. Dissolve this mantra in water and then let the patient drink this water seven times, wheraster the pain due to the disease, will disappear'

Mix some asafoetida and red sandal powder and then write this yantra. Process three pills of jaggery and give to the patient whose ailment will disappear.

This is a rare and unique yantra (called 'Shriphal yantra) of Jain ascetics. Write this yantra on a paper on an auspicious day and time, with red colour and 'Gorochan'. Then bury this yantra underneath surface of a selling place- it will cause inflow of purchasing customers.

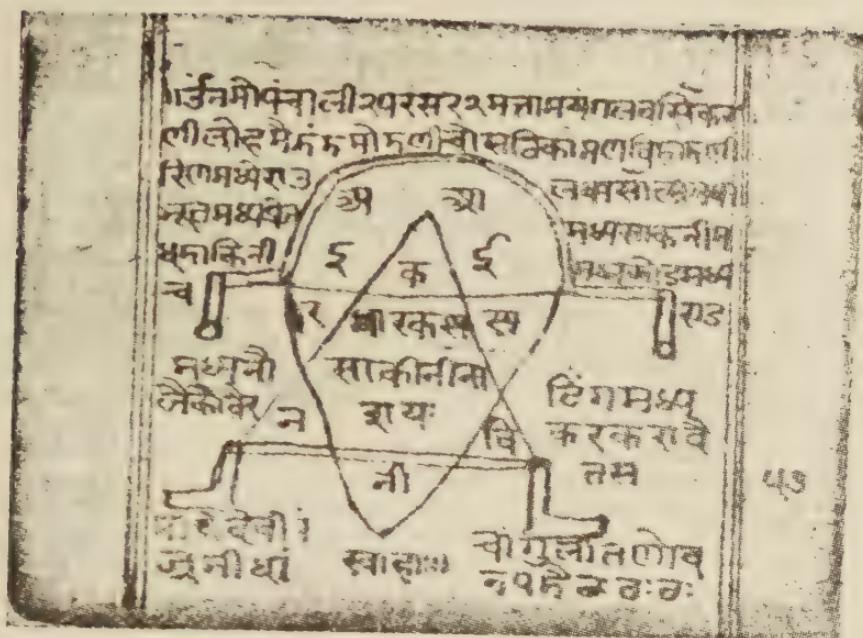

Write this yantra on a steel plate, pour some water and let it be ingested by a barren lady who will conceive and give birth to a son.

If you have eye-ache, soaked a cotton swab in stramonium plant's milk (which is a poison) and keep over big toe-which lies opposite to the painful eyes, i.e. if left eye is paining, keep the swab on right big toe.

Mantra

ॐ नमो पंचांगुली -पंचांगुली, परशरी, परशरी माता मंगल वशीकरनी, लेहमयं दण्ड मोदणी, चौसठ कामण विदारनी, रणमध्ये, रावलमध्ये, भूतमध्ये, प्रेतमध्ये, डाकणी-शाकनी मध्ये, छलछिद्रमध्ये, दिन-रातमध्ये, जो मुझ ऊपर बुरो कोई करे, करावे, जड़े-जड़ावे, तसु माथे पंचांगुली देवी तनो वज्र निधात पड़े, ॐ ठः ठः ठः स्वाहा ।

(1) To ensure downfall of the enemy - Wear black clothes, sit under a black creeper or Margosa tree and recite 16000 mantras, but do it when time of 4/1/2 hours at night has passed. It is more beneficial if this mantra is recited for 36000 times, or still better if one lakh mantras are recited. Recite one-tenth of total of recited mantras at the time of sacrifice/oblation. Make offering of mustard residue, cotton ponyard, Guggul, horse bean at the sacrifice. Then take a twelve-finger long iron nail, write your enemy's name thereon. Then dig this nail into the ground, and keep on reciting the mantra while hammering nail - it will ensure downfall and defeat of the enemy.

(2) Starting from tuesday, daily recite 1000 mantras. Perform oblation on the 8th day. Speak your enemy's name in the morning (Nine times), and in the evening clap 108 times-but on each clap three mantras should be recited and then whiff-it will stop all activities of the enemy who will desert the place of abode.

(3) Decimation of an enemy - On tuesday morning take dust from underneath feet of the enemy, saliva after he spits betel-leaf, earthen dust from a pot-maker's wheel- mix all the three ingredients and process an effigy of the enemy out of these articles. Write enemy's name on a piece of paper which should be inserted in the replica. Process a nail of catechu wood equal to length of eight fingers and nail it in the heart region of the effigy, reciting this mantra 21 times prior to nailing. Creeper of 'Sassa', mustard seeds, small pebbles should be oblated at oblation, speak enemy's name and dig in ground enemy's effigy. The enemy will perish within three days. It is a tested and verified mantra.

(4) Criterion to ascertain presence or otherwise of a witch -

Ask some strong person to compress the little finger of left hand and if there is bleeding from the mouth, it indicates presence of a witch. If saliva flows out, then there is some ailment. Sanctify ash or 'Kapaasia' with 21 recitations of mantra; and if the affected person is given the same and is actually eaten by him (taking it to be sweet), then it also indicates presence of a witch. After verifying the presence of witch, then perform oblation with 'Kapaasia'. Guggul, red colour, and flowers of kaner, sanctify guggul and let the patient inhale smoke - it will dispel all the defective effects.

(5) If a fragment of salt is sanctified with this mantra, and a piece is thrown on enemy's house for seven days, beginning from sunday night, it will render the enemy's house a deserted place.

(6) If a piece of salt is sanctified with this mantra for ten times and dissolved in water. If this water is given to drink to any person, he will get subjugated.

(7) If this mantra is recited during routine (daily worship), no evil ghost or witch will torment, enemies will remain subjugated, no disease will surface, rather there will be peace and prosperity and happiness in the entire family.

A spell to ward off and offset snake poison.

(1) When a planet transits from one sign to another (Sankranti) during the month of March-April and when such solstice takes places in 'Aries' Sign, eat some lentil grams with ten leaves of margosa (Neem) a person, will remain fully protected from snake poison for one year
(2) If margosa leaves are masticated in the morning each day, the eater stays free from snake poison.

Panchdashi (Panariya) Yantra

This yantra holds highest status among all the yantras where numerical figures are employed. An aspirant can easily accomplish all his desires with the aid of this yantra. It was authentically sanctified by my maternal grand father, late Shri Vakil Pratap Chand Dave, and that is why nobody, in our Shrimali heritage, has been able to equal his brilliance. There was no work impossible for him. My father obtained this yantra from him and sanctified the same. But my father handed down a warning, that is "This yantra must not be ever used for any misdeed, with a view to cause harm to anybody. But, if an aspirant ignores this warning he will be charged with (as if) causing death to cow, child and brahmin, as it is meant only for noble deeds." Before initiating, it is necessary to seek Guru's permission.

All the above four yantras are known as 'Panariya yantra' or 'Panchdashi' yantra in which there is no 'zero' but figures from 1 to 9. These digits are written, (in nine squares- one digit in each square and there is no repetition of any digit in anyone of the digits in any one square. This way, this yantra imparts and bestows nine types of accomplishments (Navnidhi) and eight types of wealth (Ashta siddhi). The sanatanists call it 'Nirvana Mantra', as it consists of nine digits, while the 'Shaktas' (who believe in the cult of 'Shakti') call it 'Navadurga'. Recluse ascetics consider it by the name of 'Navnath'. The Jainis recite it through - Navkaar yantra. Muslim breathern write the names of their nine peers, while Naooomis write names of nine planets. This way this yantra is used by almost all the sects and religions, even though the type of worship may vary. Entire universe is subdivided into nine divisions. 'Navadha Bhakti' has also nine different ways, traits of the Brahmins are also nine, and there nine types each of gems and planets. The planets are offshoots of lord shiva, and entire calculation, of 'Tune' (due to being divided by fifteen 'Tithis'-days-represents 'Shakti'). In fact these yantras represent three worlds (Triloke). When digits are added from which ever side, the total will come to 15 which figure is considered a composite of 'Shiva' and 'Shakti'.

Above 'Panariyan' yantra conjoins at eight points, there being eight triangles in the form of eight corner - triangles - (a) 2, 5, 8, (b) 6, 5, 4, (c) 2, 7, 6, (d) 6, 1, 8, (e) 8, 3, 4, (f) 4, 9, 2, (g) 7, 5, 3, (h) 1, 5, 9.. Total of all the sides also totals upto 10, viz. (a) 7, 3, (b) 9, 1, (c) 6, 4, (d) 8, 2.. This yantra also compasses 'BEESA' like (a) 7, 1, 3, 9 and (b) 2, 6, 8, 4 - This way this yantra has 14 'KALAS' (portion/division or digit of the moon or 16th part of the moon's diameter). Hence 14 'Kalas' get re-established in this yantra (8 types of figures + 4 'Dasas' + 2 Beesas = 14 'Kalas'). If digit of 10 is inserted in place of 5, it will make a 'Beesa', as the total will come to 20. If any digit is repeated again, it is considered to be a distorted and defective version of this yantra. Here digit '5' is considered as an auspicious digit which forebodes welfare and prosperity. Hence 5 is substituted by '10' or any other digit, it will create obstacle in getting desired results. Beesa yantra cannot be drawn without the figure '9'. Hence '9' and '5' are most appropriate and indispensable digits of this yantra. This way the indicated form of this yantra is in order and correct, because '5' is the basic digit here. This yantra is replete with immense power which consists of three traits (Traits).. Digit '5' submerges into digit '9'. For instance $10 + 15 + 20 = 45 = 9$. This way this yantra consists of 15 'Kalaas' and if 'Nirvana' mantra is added to it it will represent 16 'Kalaas' of moon - A Panaria yantra having 16 'kalaas'.

(Vijayasiddha Panaria Yantra)

This Panari Yantra, alongwith basic (Moola, fundamental) mantras, should be worn on right arm or on right hand-it imparts success in all fields, hence its nomeclation as ' 'Sarvasiddha Panaria yantra'.

Root Mantra - Without the aid and knowledge of root mantra, this 'Panchdashiyantra' cannot be awakened and 'Root Mantra' being

'ॐ ह्रीं श्री कर्त्ती एं नमः'

This mantra is of four kinds, viz: 'Aatsi', 'Khaaki', 'Vaadi' and 'Aabi' and all these yantras have been mentioned earlier. Three different Rashis (Zodiac signs) have been assigned to each type of yantra. Hence, an aspirant should use only that yantra which falls under his own Rashi, and not any other type.

This yantra, if used under laid down methods, is capable of bestowing money and wealth, can decimate enemies, release a prisoner from prison, helps to see deity's image, apart from enchantment etc. This mantra should be written $1\frac{1}{4}$ lakh times systematically which process is known as 'Purushcharan'. This mantra, written $1\frac{1}{4}$ lakh times, is capable of accomplishing the aspirant's desires. For enchantment add the word (ह्रीं) (Hareen) along with the root mantra, and recite this word and root mantra.

Process : Be seated on an 'Asana' of a red cloth and procure best quality of Dhoop. Try this experiment at a secluded place. First of all, clean the place with cowdung, and then write the root mantra with liquified red sandal or saffron, and then lighten an earthen lamp, using cow's ghee. If the motive is welfare and prosperity, then keep it facing east and /or north, otherwise keep it facing west and/or south sides. Wick should be processed from 1008 or 18 strings of 'Mauli' (twisted red coloured thread). During the process, eat only pure and bland diet, maintain celibacy, do not get your head shaved nor masticate betel, use the same venue for sleeping where entire process is to be performed. Inscribe this yantra on a bark leaf or paper, using 'Ashtagandha'. Take $1\frac{1}{2}$ wide and 1 long plank of mango woods, prepare ink from mica, red colour (Gulal - used during 'Holi') and write this yantra on the plank with a pen of pomegranate branch, as this is the best method to write the yantra. For a specific accomplishment, only the prescribed pen and ink should be used. Each yantra is used for a specific purpose. For acquisition of wealth adopt the reverse course, that is start from 9 downwards (in descending order), finally concluding at Number 1. Residual portion of ink, that falls apart from the pen after writing, should be mixed with flour, process small rolls and be thrown into water, for the diet of fish. If the fish consume these balls, it indicates success but if not eaten, then it is indicative of failure. Commence the process when 'Chandra Nadi' is operative, if the aimed object is inanimate (immobile) if it is mobile, start when 'Surya Nadi' is operative. (This pertains to two nasal nostril and breathing is a synonym for 'Swar' or 'Nadi'. It is said that only one nostril is operative at a time). If the left nostril is active, then kept left step (foot), and if right one is active, then put the right foot on the seat. Do not be dejected if horrible dreams are seen. When the process is over, perform oblation with one tenth part of total mantras. Serve sweet dish of 'Kheer' to the tiny girls. On the conclusion of the process chant religious songs, seek and enjoy the company of ascetics. Do not disclose the result of accomplishment to anyone, that is maintain a secret and do not disclose for nine days.

Various methods suggested for accomplishment of different desires.

1. To recall a person to home from another place, write this mantra and tie it to 'Aratia', write the person's name, and then recite the mantra.

2. If the intention is to decimate a person, use pen made out of pomegranate branch and write this mantra, go on consigning the mantra into fire. It will burn the enemy's body.

3. Write this mantra for 1 lakh times to get a prisoner released from jail.

4. To acquire vehicles, land and regime, write this mantra 2 lakh times.

5. If a person writes it 3 lakh times he becomes empowered to curse anybody.

6. By writing this mantra 5 lakh times, the aspirant acquires powers that whatever he utters will prove true (vaaksiddhi).

7. If goes on writing this mantra for 6 lakh times, and consigns each mantra one-by one to the flowing river, he will subjugate all the animals of that area.

8. If this mantra is written for 7 lakh times, the goddess of wealth, lakshmi, will appear in person before him. He also acquires and enjoy wealth, prosperity and pleasures throughout his life.

9. The aspirant acquires eight types of accomplishments (Ashta siddhi) if he writes this mantra eight lakh times.

10. Pefty and smaller aims can be gained if this mantra is written 8 -10 thousand times.

11. If this mantra is written with pen of pomegranate branch, under the area of a banyan tree, on fourth day of black phase of moon, the devotee accomplishes in performing some religious feat.

12. This mantra should be written one thousand times on the ground with ink made from with cow-urine, 'Mensil' camphor, 'Agar', on a bark leaf. The leaf should be buried under that piece of land, the aspirant's penury will disappear.

13. Process an ink from bael leaves, 'Rasgandha', 'Hartal' and 'Mensil', using pen of branch of bael tree, and the yantra is buried at a sacred place, the aspirant will acquire knowledge and whatever he utters will prove true.

14. Write this mantra on stramonium leaves with the crow's feather, keep in mind desired person's name, and at the end of mantra utter 'Hoon Phat Thum Thah' the targeted person will get enchanted'.

15. Sanctify this mantra and keep the same in eight metals. Then keep it in the house. Daily worship and behold this yantra. If any person, afflicted by an evil spirit/ghost, comes to your house, he will get freed from the clutches of such devilish spirits.

16. Dissolve the yantra in water. Give this water to the pregnant lady, who is about to deliver a child, she will not have any labour pains and will have an easy and hasslefree delivery. It was in September 1975, that a senior officers wife writhing with extreme labour pains and doctors, at the local Ummed Hospital, had declared that the lady will have to be operated quickly as she was having a dead foetus in her uterus and if operation is not performed the poison will spread all over the lady's body resulting in her death even. The husband came to my father, as the situation was fraught with dangerous consequences. My father consoled and blessed him and assured that nothing untoward would happen to his wife. He gave him this yantra and asked him to dissolve the same in water which should be served to his wife. He acted upon the advice and, then, a miracle ensued- the lady gave birth to a baby infant and that too, without any operation. The child is still alive and has excellent health. The officer is still feeling indebted. It implies that truth requires no proof. The aspirants should themselves experiment on the suggested methods and hopefully would intimate us about their experiences and reactions.

17. In addition to the aforesaid experiments this unique yantra has many other applications which are based on and need to be performed on specific week-days, on the modes suggested hereunder, in relation to each week-day.

Yantra Raaj Beesa

There is a famous adage that even god cannot cause any harm to a person who possesses Beesa yantra. All the complex and intractable problems of this world can be resolved by use of this yantra, hence it has been rightly called as the king of all other yantra.

Yantra emancipation

-नवकोठा, अठ अंक है और खुणा अठाईस जाण ।
पांचा जिसमें न हुवे, वीसा यंत्र प्रमाण ॥
चार अंक कित ही गिणो, उत ही होवे वीस ।
एका से प्रारम्भ करो, सब आंकण को ईस ॥
आंक बणे, यंत्र बणे, कह हकीकत सोय ।

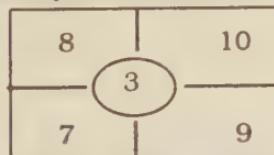

This is correct and pure Beesa yantra which I have located from my maternal grand father's diary. This yantra has eight directions and a large hexagon within the square hence its nomeclation as Ashtadalatmak Beesa ? In all it has 32 angles. In the diagram four corners have been shown on all the four directions and with the help of triangles, forming in the squares, four directions are worshipped.

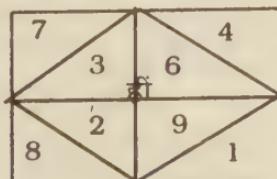

Figure in the centre, that is '10': denotes presence of 'Mahavidya'. Figure '2' in eastern angle represents Shiv + Shakti. No '8' in western angle denotes eight accomplishments, figure No '4' in southern side denotes four ages and Vedas. Figure '6' in the northern side denotes six types of taste. No '7' in the north-east side indicates 'Sapta Rishi' and 'Saptadeepi Vasundhra'. Figure '9' in Agnikone' (south-east) direction indicates 'Navkhanda Navanath', nine planets. No '3' in south-west side indicates Trideva, 'Trigunatniak Shakti', and No '1' in north-west side represents one supreme being, one God almighty onkar, the middle part ('O') 'zero represents 'Sky' (Vacuum)- this is how our ancient sages have described details of 'Beesa yantra.'

If figures of four directions are added, the sumtotal will come to 20, Viz a, $2+10+8=20$ b, $6+10+4=20$, c, $1+10+9=20$ and d, $7+10+3=20$. If figures of all the four angles are added, it will also total upto 20 Viz (a) $2+6+8+4=20$ (b) $7+1+3+9=20$ which is known as two fold 'Beesa'. This way we find six types of Beesa yantra. Twenty phases (of moon) are constituted from this yantra. If figure '10' is left out, as (a) $2+8$ (b) $6+4$, (c) $1+9$ (d) $7+3$ which implies four 'Dasas'. If two directions and one angle are combined, it will result in (a) $2+7+6$ (b) $6+1+8$, (c) $8+3+4$ (d) $4+9+2$ - this way this Beesa yantra can be accomplished and sanctified four ways. If figures of northern side + north-east side are combined ($6+7$) southern side + south west side ($4+9$), North + North-West ($6+1$) total of both the bracketed figures come to 7. But the total of figures in the east + North-east ($2+7$) west + north-west ($8+1$) comes to 9. If figures of East + South -west ($2+3$) and south+ North -west are coupled, the total comes to 5. This way, Beesa yantra is instrumental in bestowing 21 types of accomplishments ($9+7+5=21$), hence it is rightly called as the supermost yantra.

There are many types of Beesa yantra which, according to hearsay, is employed for various accomplishments, Viz;

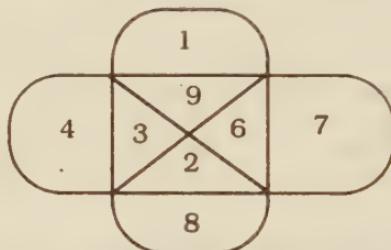

This a subtle of five cornered Beesa yantra which is studded in Tantric rings. It has nine 'Kalaas'- (a) It is Beesa from two sides (b) Jataria, from two sides (c) 'Paneria' from one side (d) Unneesa from one side and (e) 'Ikkisaa' from two sides. Figure '3', lying in the centre of yantra, helps to acquire victory, righteousness, money, activity, and salvation.

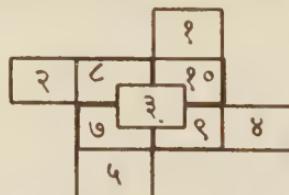

This yantra has 24 angles which constitute an eight-petalled triangle. In chess a horse moves at 4 paces and an elephant at 3 paces, and figures O (zero) and '5' are missing here. In between, the word 'Hareeng' (हरीं) denotes 'Mayabeej' (मायाबीज), which is surrounded by 'Mahagaureeti chashtaaamam' (महागौरीति चाष्टाम) which is signified by eight triangles, and midway lies a triangular (Peetha) seat which represents seed of desires (say sex or general desires). The aspirants utilise this yantra in accordance with the desired results. This yantra indicates that eight types of Beesa can be formed out of this yantra Viz - (a) 7,3,2,8 (b) 7,3,6,4 (c) 7,3,9,1 (d) 8,2,9,1 (e) 8,2,6,4, (f) 1,9,6,4, (g) 3,2,9,6 and (h) 3,9,2,6 - the sum of all the said types totals upto 20. If figures of east and west directions are added, we get (a) 7+8 (b) 6+9 which make two types of 'Panaria'. Similarly when (a) 3+2, (b) 4+1 are added, it make the figure '5' in each case, which implies that aims can be accomplished in five ways. When figures of triangles are added we obtain (a) 7+3 (b) 8+2 (c) 9+1 and (d) 6+4, that is figure '10' is obtained by adding the figures in each triangle. In short, this is the sort of yantra that encompassed figures like 5,10,15 and 20, as explained above. This is how this yantra is known as the Beesa yantra, having 16 'Kalaas'.

This Beesa yantra consists of four triangles 5 qudriangles and 28 angles. In the Centre there is no quadriangle or zero or figure '5' and no digit has been repeated again. This is known as 'Pancha Tattava Beesa' which implies that we can obtain the figure of '20' by five different ways, Viz, (a) 1,9,2,8 (b) 4,3,6,7 (c) 9,,3,2,6, (d) 9,2,3,6 and (e) 1,4,8,7. Since there is no inclusion of any other yantra in it it is a genuine and pure beesa, having eight such divisions, as is clearly evident from the given diagram.

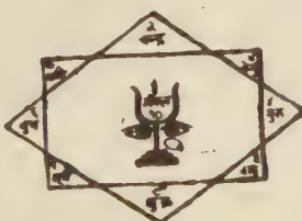

This Beesa yantra has nine squares which constitute 36 angles. There is absence of '6' but figure '5' is existent. If figures of three squares are added it will constitute six types of Beesa, Viz (a) 2,8,10 (b) 8,7,5 (c) 7,9,4, (d) 1,10,9 (e) 8,3,9, (f) 7,3,10. This beesa is considered to be air-predominant, having six 'Kalaas'.

This Beesa yantra consists of 9 squares, but does not have figures 'O' (zero) and '10' and no figure has been repeated again, (i.e.) figures from 1 to 9 have been utilized. This is an effective and powerful. 'Nirvaan yantra having 'Beejaakshar (s). The digit '5', in the centre, represents Panch Parmeshwar (Five Gods), 'Pancha tattva' (Five elements), 'Panch vaayu' (Five types of wind), 'Pancha agna' (Five types of fire). If figures in the four squares are summed up, it makes Beesa yantra, Viz (a) 3,7,6,4 (b) 4,6,8,2 (c) 2,8,9,1 (d) 1,9,7,3. By adding figures of centrally located squares, it makes two Beesa yantras, Viz (a) 7,5,8 and (b) 6,5,9. This way six types of Beesa yantras can be had, as explained above. If central digit '5' is not taken into account, it will make two types of 'Panaria,' Viz (a) 7+8 (b) 9+6. If all the four figures of outer squares are added it will give figure of 10, viz (a) 1,5,4 and (b) 3,5,2. This way, this Beesa yantra represents 'Ekaadash Rudra' (eleven kinds of Rudra); eleven 'Kalaas' and fire element But, all said and done it is quite difficult to assimilate and comprehend the import inherent in this yantra.

This Beesa yantra consists of six hexagons, three triangles, 33 angles and nine squares but there is no square and figure 10 present in the centre. But, despite this, the marvel being that ten beesas can be carved out the given figure, Viz (a) 9,3,2,6 (b) 9,1,8,2, (c) 3,7,4,6, (d) 1,7,4,8, (e) 3,7,8,2, (f) 3,7,1,9, (g) 2,8,4,6, (h) 9,1,4,6, (i) 1,8,7,4, (j) 9,5,6,. Total of three triangular figures makes two 'Panarias' Viz (a) 9,1,5 and (b) 6,4,5. Also if left and rights sided squares are added, the total will also come to 15, Viz (a) 9,6 (b) 7,8. When (a) 1+4 (b) 3+2 are added, it totals upto 5 in both cases which represent five types of accomplishments. When figures of three triangles are added, we get 10(5+3+2), and angular calculations also come to 10, Viz (a) 9+1, (b) 3+7 (c) 6+4 (d) 2+8. From the above given details we notice that all powerful and benefit Beesa yantra, having twenty one 'Kalaas', is obtained.

This Beesa yantra represents nine stars and is empowered with prowess of Jagdamba. By worshpping this yantra peace prevails, all types of upheavels and problems get dispelled (which are caused by malefic impact of stars). Relevant and complete details about this yantra have been explained earlier. This yantra is infallible. Its eight corners are seats of eight 'Khshetrapals' eight 'lokepals', and eight kinds of accomplishments. Hence names of the said details and accomplishments should be inscribed on a bark leaf. If this yantra is carved in the shape of a lotus, it will assume shape of a 'lotus yantra' (Kamal yantra) which is capable of bestowing immense wealth, prosperity and money. If 'ॐ' is written in the middle and 'Nirvaana Mantra' is also written, it assumes form of the 'Devaanugraha' (देवानुग्रह) Beesa yantra. If an aspirant recites fourth chapter of Durgasaptashati' on this yantra, his acumen and prowess will increase multifold and he will succeed in all walks of life.

Process : An aspirant can achieve immense wealth if he writes 2000 yantras (Beesa yantra) on an auspicious day, when sun is in its northern solstice and ascendant is posted in a static sign (Rashi). Appropriate and prescribed pen, ink and direction should be employed, in conformity with the specific aim to be achieved. If sun is in southern solstice, only a medium type of result is achieved. During the process of ritual performance, the aspirant should exert control over his senses, eat less, sleep on the ground, obey the rules, speak the truth or else keep silent. 1/10th of total mantras should be recited at the tune of sacrifice. He should also wipe and clean the place of oblation, entertain Brahmins. Rest of the formalities can be performed as described and detailed under 'Panchdashi'.

To Reprimand an enemy by sending a powerful ghost

(1) Take some dust from underneath the feet of the enemy, ash of a burning body, blood from the middle finger- mixed all these ingredients and process an effigy, replica or idol of the enemy. Inset, horse been sanctified with 'Maaran Mantra' indicated hereunder. If this experiment is carried out at midnight, the aspirant can decimate a powerful enemy, even if he possesses might of lord Indra.

Maaran Mantra (Mantra for decimation)

"ॐ नमः काल संहाराय अमुक हन-हन क्री हु फट् भस्मी कुरु-कुरु स्वाहा ।"

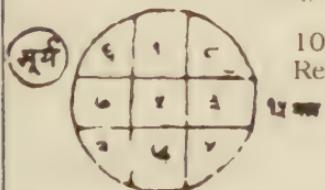

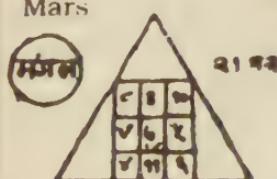

Write the name of the enemy in place of the word 'अमुक'

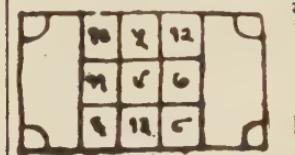

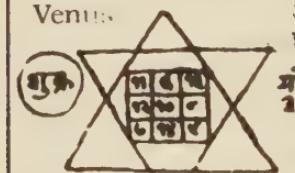

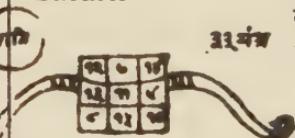

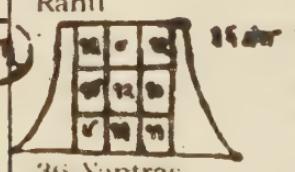

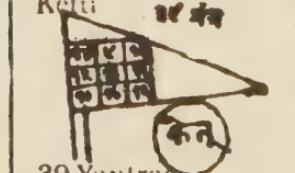

2. This experiment should be practised on eighth day of black phase of moon and should be concluded on the following fourteenth day; by reciting 108 mantras daily. Take branch of a margosa (Neem) tree, equivalent to the length of four fingers. Tie enemy's hair around this branch, write enemy's name there on. Thereafter go to a funeral ground and let the smoke of dhoop touch the written name keeping the branch above the funeral fire. This is to be performed for three nights or seven nights, whereafter the ghost will catch hold of the enemy and reprimand/harm him.

Yantra, Mantra and Tantra to Mollify Nine Planets (Stars)

Figure 3 is the most significant figure, used for mollifying the stars, as this figure is repeated respectively and figures 3.6 and 9 are respectively used in all the yantras. All these yantras cast powerful impact on the planet related yantras. The related Yantras should be inscribed on a bark leaf, with 'Ashtagandha' (a mixture of eight fragrances). The aspirant should keep the related yantra's on his person or keep at the worship place and then worship the yantra with the subject mantra - by doing so, the aspirant will get freed from the damaging impact cast by the stars.

Each metal or/and ring should be imparted life ('Prana-Pratishtha'). If all the related requisites have been complied, only then an aspirant can derive optimum desired mileage.

To cause emergence of Fire

Some persons take the credit for emergence of fire from place of sacrificial fire place (Havan) through recitation of mantras but it is not so. Mix raw sugar with potassium chlorate and spread on a place and place piece of wood thereon. In a small bowl soak cloves and rice in sulphuric acid. Then place these soaked ingredients on that place, it causes emergence of fire.

Netrapanishad as a means to dispel eye related diseases

Now I will spell out the methods described in the said Upanishad, which help to do away, with all the eye diseases with the aid of recitation of Mantras, and this information is known as 'Chaakhshushi Vidyā'. These mantras render the eyes free of any disease and also provide lustre to the eyes. This knowledge was disseminated by the saint 'Ashirbuddhanya, its meter being Gayatri, lord sun. The mantras are recited in a laid down procedure..

After inscribing this yantra, as suggested, take four-cornered bowl and keep the same over the inscribed yantra. Process four wicks of cotton, placing one each (wick) in every corner and pour in desi ghee (clarified butter) and ignite all the wicks. Thereafter, worship the 'Deepak' (lamp) by offering flowers, 'Dhoop' etc. Then sit on the surface, facing the eastern direction. Take a string bead of turmeric and chant the Beej-mantra. Now, ask the patient to look at the diagram, without winking of the eyes. Then the aspirant should utilise his spiritual power to sight the ghost and order the evil soul to descend on the diagram. In spite of this, if the ghost ignores repeated pleadings, the performer should speak in a threatening tone. "If you do not appear on this diagram, then I will burn and decimate you" on hearing this threatening command, the ghost will enter and appear on the replica. As soon as the ghost presents himself, the miniature human figure on right side will at once disappear. As soon as the ghost appears on the replica, stick a paper on the back-side of the bigger replica.

When this process is over, ask the afflicted person to speak like this, "O Namrood! Take the ghost under your Control". Thereafter, fold the paper from the mid-portion into multiple folds and then tie a black thread securely around the folded paper so that the evil spirit (ghost) makes it exist once forever.

Then show this diagram to the afflicted person and speak like this, "The evil spirit, having its abode in this person's body, should abandon his body and submerge into this diagram" After saying so, fold this yantra and throw into burning fire, so that the ghost gets burnt and is not in a position to again torment any other person.

Israar-E-Waham, Talasamubrai Jango-Jadaal

(इसरारे वहम तलस्मुँबराये जंगोजदाल)

This charm or spell is employed when someone intends to create a wholesome confusion in the minds of persons of a community, caste, family or friends' circle, so that the targeted community's persons start to quarrel that turned into a battle, so much so that they are ready to kill each other. To accomplish this aim, the aspirant should draw a ditto figure, as given above, on a red piece of copper (plate), when red rays are emanating from sun early in the twilight. But, this process should be initiated during specific planetary positions, viz; when Mars is at 1°. in Aries, 7°. 11° or 23°. in Taurus, 29°. in Gemini, 13° or 27°. in Leo, 27° or 28°. in Libra, 20° or 30° in Sagittarius, 20° or 29°. in capricorn, 14° or 27°. in Aquarius, or 30° in Pisces, or when there is conjunction of Moon and Mars or Mars and Saturn, or when these stars cast spell in relation to the degrees, detailed above.

In the above given diagram four persons are depicted as fighting with each other, with a view to killing the other person's as a result of which head of one person is seen chopped off, other person's body stands severed from the waistline, and the two other persons are armed with weapons, ready to kill the other person, when this diagram is being processed, burn Dhoop and benzoins. Keep this yantra under the moonlight for nights and conceal (hide) this yantra, when moon disappears, so that the yantra is not subjected to ill impact of other stars. After expiry of 7 days, put this Talisman in a copper vessel and seal its top opening with ten. After doing so much, bury this vessel at the desired place, where feud or quarrel is desired to be started. The vessel will remain buried at the place where it has been burried, as a result of this act, there will be constant infighting, quarrels, feuds and scuffles at the place, because inmates of that place will get impacted by mutual suspicion, confusion and animosity, due to which all of them will get destroyed and ultimately ruined.

Tantra

I do not wish to entangle and burden my readers in unnecessary wordy dual regarding the meaning of Tantra. Actually tantra is the nomenclature of a special type of process/procedure, where yantra and mantra is required. Certain conspicuous trait and significance are attached to a specific Nakshatra, time, period, sacrifice, objects and all these facets are charged with a specific energy and power- all these aspects are fully known to an expert tantrik. When all the said facets are combined together, one can witness new devices, driving force, strength miracles and scintillation. In order to fulfil various aspirations and desires of human beings, other methods like mantra and yantra are laborious, expensive and time consuming whereas tantric devices are quite easily performed, with minimal expenses, and their results are far quicker. Jins coqlis, a French, studied Indian sciences of Indian Tantra and spells and concluded that Indian that no doubt, are true but it is beyond the Ambit of human comprehension to research thereon.

There is no element of impiety involved in 'Tantra' but when there is lack/ absence of faith, devotion, confidence or there is also presence of hesitancy and repugnance, no tantric device can ever succeed. Self confidence and faith in teacher's competence and power are the core factors to make any device successful, and there is no place for 'How and 'Why' here. This is the reason as to why the so called modern intelligentia mocks and jeers at Tantra and Tantrik. Despite all this, there is visible impact of tantra which, itself is its greatest criterion for its success. Once a Noble prize winner visited Physician Nelseborn's residence and noticed a horse's hoof outside his house and asked, "Do you believe in such superstition". Sir Nelseborn replied, "I can not affirm whether I believe in superstition or charms but I am decidedly feeling much relieved and relaxed since this horse's hoof has been installed outside my house." When even renowned doctors fail to cure any patient, due to lack of proper diagnosis then the elderly persons in the family or tantriks succeed to cure them. If this is not miracle, then what's this? 'Totka' Word is quite famous in Marwari community and it stands for yantrik processes. But there are certain 'Totakas' which are fortified, and by Mantra and tantra, and they are the real powerful ones. 'Vanaspati Tantra', Pakhshi Tantra, Ratna Tantra Nakshatra Tantra, Vashi Tantra and Maaran Tantra are only branches of Tantra. Due to space crunch it is not possible to explain these disciplines, for which a voluminous book is being separately written. Here only very selected yantras are being presented for the benefit of our readers. We hope the readers will benefit from our experiments. (The Author.)

Yantra to stop loose motions and vomiting.

If a child is suffering from vomiting and loose motions then revolve wheat flour around the head of child seven times and also a metal pot of water for seven times. Then throw this wheat flour over any type of bone, lying outside or in the vicinity of your house, apart from drawing a circle around the bone with water. (contained in the metal pot)

Tantra for dispelling damaging impact of an act of sorcery

If any woman or man throws any type of charm or sorcery stealthily in someone's house or shop and if you have spotted or seen any such person resorting to this type of practice or if you are sure about such a mischief doer or you suspect anyone, then make that person lick the threshold of your door seven times- it will cast away and destroy the effects of sorcery and incantation.

Various spells /charms to offset impact of evil eye

Even a charming and healthy child will suddenly fall ill due to damaging impact of an evil person's evil sight. If a grown up person is affected, he will fall a prey to indigestion, loss of appetite, the milching cows and buffalos will give lesser quantity of milk, even an attractive object or idol will disintegrate.

Following suggestions* should be tried to cast away the said or other types of such ill effects-

1. Take salt, mustard seeds, 'Baal', garlic dried peelings of onions and dried red chillies (whole) and throw all these articles on burning coal. If the emanating smoke smells like foul odour, there is no such ill effect but when there is no smell, it is a sure indication of effect of an evil eye.

8. Take sindoor (red colour) from Hanuman ji's idol's head, take a red chilly, an iron nail and some grains of horsebeen (Urad)- put all these articles in a white cloth, tie the same with a black thread. Fasten this cloth to the child's cradle, the child will be protected from impact of ghosts, fiends and evil eye.

9. Revolve a piece of alum over patient and then crush the same with left hand and throw this powder into a well or elsewhere keep fast on that day.

10. If someone has cast an evil eye on the food, partake a bit of each food item, keep on a leaf, and spread red colour (Gulal) thereon. Now keep this at a road crossing. Take your meals (all the members), after doing as directed.

11. Hold a broom in your hand and mentally speak name of the suspected person. (Who you think, has caused the mischief), and then incant the patient with this broom. Then separate 2,3 or 4 straws of this broom, spit thereon and throw the same away.

12. If milk yield and ghee of cow or buffalo have been impacted by some person's eye, then thread together three small shells, one iron ring, 'Mauli' in silken thread or a red thread, and recite the mantra, indicated earlier for dispelling damaging impact of evil eyes and sorcery - it will have instant salutary effect.

13. If yield of clarified butter has been adversely impacted, keep your shoe upside down nearby at the place where curd is being churned.

If chillies assume black colour and water content in the lemon also dries up, it is a clear pointer that the place had been impacted by an evil eye of some person. The changes, described above, will indicate that the problem has ended.

Spell or charm to foresee death

A person who takes birth has to meet his or her end one day, whether it is now or later, but nobody can escape from the clutches of death which is an ultimate reality. If a person knows exact or almost probable time of impending death, he can arrange to finish his unaccomplished work. If he has finished his pending duties or jobs or obligations, he will leave this world as a satisfied person because he has done his job. Not only this but some learned persons can endeavour to pave the way for their journey after death. Following points and situation may be taken as sure, or at least near certain indications about time of impending death.

1. If any person constantly continues to breathe through the right nostril, from I day to XVI day of a lunar month, he will die within a month, reckoned from the first day.

2. If a person does not breathe, even for a split second, from his left nostril on the first day of any month or year, he will surely meet his evil within fifteen days.

3. A person will definitely die within ten days, if his faeces, urine and wind discharge simultaneously on the first day of any lunar month or year.

4. If a person fails or is unable to see the space between his eyebrows, he will die within 7 or 10 days, reckoned from that day when he fails to see space between his eye brows. Similarly, if he cannot see his own nose, he dies within 3 days and if he cannot see his tongue, he will die within a day and there should be no doubt about the said revelations. In addition, if a person fails to locate and see Arundhati, Dhruva, Vishnupaad and Krittika Nakhshatras, death stares in his face.

5. When a person does not breathe through his both nostrils but breathes only through mouth, it must be concluded that his death time is fast approaching.

6. A person will die immediately when his nose gets curvatured, both his ears get elevated upwards and his eyes continue to water.

7. A person will die within a month, if he cannot see his head, while seeing image in water, oil or ghee.

13. If any obese person gets slim or a slim person gets obese, suddenly and without any apparent cause he will surely die within a month.

14. When an ear is plugged with a finger, it is a natural consequence that indistinct sound will be heard. But, when such a sound is inaudible, a person will die within a month.

15. If an earthen lamp is filled with mustard oil and a person fails to smell the odour of smoke, while the lamp has been blown off, he will die, within six months.

16. A person will die within three months if, on being pressed, there is no pain felt in the teeth and testicles.

A noble person, who has lead a pious life, can easily foresee time of his death, whereas an evil person dies by inches, because he cannot foresee all such warning signals. It has been, generally observed that only one's noble or evil deeds determine the way as to how a person will meet his death. But, there are some instances when wicked and evil persons die peacefully and noble and pious persons experience a painful and agonising death.

Death lies under control of god and scientists have failed to unravel mysteries of death. But our sages and ascetics have spelled out certain way by which a person can develop premonition and foresight to determine actual or near-about time of death which can be postponed, but only for a limited period only. Not only this, our ascetics predicted correctly the time and place of their death, rather they breathed their last at the predicted time, day, month and place, and this is no mean achievement.

Methods to impregnate - According to Atharvaveda

With relation to menstrual period

It is the mental and physical copulations between husband and wife, that results in the birth of children. Whether a child is born as a boy, girl or an enunch depends upon couple's actions performed in the previous birth, rather death factor is also dependent upon actions of the previous birth. There are many instances available when Mantra, Mani (Gems, stones) and medical treatment have helped in the birth of a child, yet sexual mating, aided by Tantra, is no less significant. Since the methods employed have been well tried time and again, it has been thought fit to include this chapter, as it is, from Atharvaveda for the benefit of readers.

Such a lady is a fit person for mating who treads slowly like a cow, is lazy, cheerful, who is desirous of conceiving from the core of her heart, such a lady should be mated by inserting penies into her vagina with the intention of causing her conception. An ideal time of sixteen day is a natural course for onset of menses in a lady, out of which first four days are prohibited for mating. Hence rest of the days should be utilised for conception. First four days, eleventh and twelfth nights are inauspicious days, as these are condemned and in auspicious days but rest of the days are ideal and auspicious.

If conception takes place on even nights (2,4,6,8), a male child will be born, but on odd nights (1,3,5,7), a female child is born. Hence, the couples, who wish to have a son, should mate on even dates only and cause conceptions.

If male's semen is pdwerful and potent, a male child will be born, if, 'Raja' is dominant, a male child will be born. If both 'Raja' and semen are equally powerful, one may have once a son on one occasion and daughter on the other occasion. If there is birth of girls only, then it implies weak and sparse quantity of semen.

If conception takes place on fourth night, a son will be born but he will have shorter span of life, bereft of virtuous qualities will not abide by the well accepted norms and disciplines, will be a child with low thinking and conduct, a rank poor and a distressed child.

When conception takes place on fifth night, it will cause birth of a girl, on sixth a son is born and on seventh a girl is born, but there are chances of earlier death of such a child; hence these dates should be abandoned and left out. If con-ception takes place on eighth night, a lucky son is born.

A lucky female child will be born if conception takes place on ninth night. Conception on tenth night results in birth of a splendid son, on the eleventh night's conception a religious minded girl is born, conception on twelfth night bestows, a gem among male persons. If a person impregnates his wife on thirteenth night, then an idiot, morally wreck, cross breed girl is born who is a cause of defame, distress and worry. Impregnation on fourteenth night will yield a religious, obedient, obliging son who will have control over his senses, be an ascetic, with capability to rule over the world. In short the child will inherit all the virtues and noble qualities of his father. If a wife gets impregnated on the fifteenth night, then a girl will be born who will acquire royal beauty, excellent luck, enjoys excessive comforts and pleasure, and remains faithful to her husband. If conception takes place on the sixteenth night, it will bestow a scholarly, child who will always speak the truth, exert control over his senses and look after the interests of her family members.

Lal Kitab and Miraculous spells on stars

The book entitled 'Lal Kitab' is a famous treatise on Indian astrological literature which contains mystical and miraculous devices, but this book is not available even though it is a rare book. Sometime a renowned fortune teller wrote an article through which he offered to pay Rs 25000/- if the said book was made available to him. Original 'Lal Kitab' contains 1172 pages and is written basically in urdu and many scintillating, effective and cost-effective methods have been suggested to dispel damaging impact cast by the stars. Though the methods suggested look to be mind-boggling yet their effectiveness and efficacy has been tried and tested by many persons; hence these methods are fully authentic, verified and tried. These practices are widely in vogue in states of Punjab and Haryana and you, too, can easily practise the same. For the benefit of common masses I give hereunder, a collection of such devices, in a nutshell.

Talisman (yantra) pertaining to stars and burning essence (Dhoop) required to be used.

A Yantra for a specific star is prepared by using specific burning essence (Dhoop) which has been prescribed in each case.

The yantra (Talisman) is kept under the sun light upto the time of sunset but is removed from sunlight (before the sunset and hidden). The talisman is kept in the sunlight during ascendency (rise) of the planet. The talisman is removed and concealed so that rays of the rising sun do not fall upon the yantra.

While processing a yantra we must keep in mind the purpose and aim, and tendency of the planet and sign (Rashi).

If effect of a yantra is to be nullified or even put to an end, then process a reverse yantra whose tendency must be opposed to the former one. For instance, fire and wind are inherently related to each other but to nullify the effect element of fire should be aligned / combined with water or earth element.

Types of Burning essenses or Fragrances for each star.

Sun Loban + Ud + Chandan (sandal)+ Jafran or Kesar (Saffron)

Mars - Red chillies + Opium + clove 's' + Guggul

Mercury- Loban + Guggul + root of Jasmine+ almonds

Jupiter - Saffron + Nagarmotha + red sandal + white sandal

Venus - Ud + Loban.

Saturn - Black pepper + Guggul + sealing lac.

Moon- Loban + camphor (Kapur)

When Rahu is posited in the XII house, the native has to expend money in unwanted facets, he suffers from feuds and quarrels, is subjected to trumped up charges of falsehood and theft, to tide over such abnormal and inauspicious problems, the native should take his meals in his kitchen itself where food is cooked, and keep all the articles, relating to Mars, in his bedroom—it will completely dispell all types of damagingly inauspicious effects of Rahu. Lords of Stars

'Lal Kitab' has assigned a lord or deity each to each of the stars, viz., Sun's lord is Vishnu, Moon's Shiva, Mercury's lord is Durga, Jupiter's lord being Brahma, Venus lord is Lakhshmi, Saturn's lord being Shiva, Rahu's lord is Snake and Ketu's lord is Ganesh.

the wane or verge of extinction, then donate articles which are attributed to Sun. Conversely, if strong Satrun is afflicting and impacting weak Sun's position and the articles like gold, jaggery, regime etc. are under depletion or affliction, then donate articles like iron, oil almonds etc.

4. If there is conjunction of Rahu and Sun, then float in running water articles like Coal, mustard etc. It implies that articles relating to harmful stars, should be donated, at the time of solar eclipse.

5. If Moon and Rahu combine, then donate the articles, during lunar eclipse, relating to Rahu or Saturn (because Moon and Rahu are hostile and inimical to each other but only moon is rendered powerless by Saturn) or float the related articles in flowing water.

6. When Mars and Mercury combine, this combination adversely impacts sister's health, hence to ward off such an ill effect, put articles (like aniseed, sugar (raw) etc.) in a long-necked water-pot (suraahi) and bury the same at a secluded place - this remedial step pertains to Mars.

7. Warning - None of the aforementioned method should be adhered to and practised, unless one is specifically directed by a priest (Guru) to do so. Moreover, no remedy should be done at night, rather all remedies be done only during the day time only.

Note : All the remedies are based on an individual's birth, horoscope and the planetary positions, combinations and various other factors that necessitate resort to laid down remedial steps. But, one must, have his/her horoscope fully examined by a scholarly and experienced astrologer who can guide about the remedial steps needed to be taken, because an erratic, misguided and half-hearted approach may even cause havoc of great magnitude. Hence do not act of your own, rather be guided by a qualified astrologer and guide.

Miraculous Mantras of Ramacharitmanas

(For Various accomplishments)

Ramacharitmanas is the most famous political composition of Goswami Tulsidas. It is a reverential and much adored epic of Hindi language and literature which is recited in most Hindu families as a part of daily worship. Most of the couplets have become even proverbs which depict various realities and experiences of even a common man. There have been occasions when people have accomplished their unfulfilled desires and aspiration by simple recitation of its couplets. Those who do not know Sanskrit, they can easily have their desires accomplished by recitation. For the Hindus, especially in the northern region, it is an epic which can match with the popularity of any book of any religion.

Rule

Simplest method to Sanctify couplets and verses (of 4 lines) of 'Manas' is to sit after 10 P.M. on any auspicious day and sanctify the desired mantra through sacrifice (Havan), for relevant accomplishment, and then recite the mantra, daily. It is believed Lord Shankar, whose seat is considered to be Kashi (varanasi) imparted, 'Mantra Shakti' to the epic poetry. Hence, one should sit facing towards Kashi while embarking upon a course of recitation-it will yield desired results for sure and this is an experience of many aspirants.

Articles needed for sacrifice (Havan Saamagri)

1. Powder of sandal
2. Sesamum
3. Clarified butter (ghee)
4. Sugar
5. Agar
6. Tagar
7. Pure Saffron
8. Nagarmotha
9. Five types of dry fruits
10. Barley and
11. Rice.

Requisite Guidelines and directions

Related verse should be sanctified, at the time of performing sacrifice, by reciting, the verse 108 times. The sacrifice needs to be performed once only during the day. Prepare a platform by sand or soil dust and then offer the desired objects at the fire. At the end of the verse, chant the word 'Swaaha' (स्वाहा). But the sacrifice should be performed after 10 p.m. only. Each oblation offering should consist of 10 gms mixture of all the ingredients, mentioned earlier and total weight of all the articles should be about one kg, but not below. Five types of dry fruits include pistachid, almonds, currants, walnuts and cashewnuts but if all these are not handy, walnuts and sugar candy may be substituted therefore; Since Saffron is a costly item, purchase only 1 gm, or so which will suffice.

Use a string bead (Mala) for counting the number of mantras at the tune of sacrifice, but use only right hand to count beads. If string bead is either not handy or convenient, keep 108 grains of wheat, barley or rice in your right hand. Use a woollen seat (like blanket) or jungle grass (Kusha). If a cotton seat is employed, the same should be neat, clean and pure.

If couplets/verses of 'Sunder Kaand' are desired to be sanctified, then Saturday is the most appropriate day but for the verses of other cantos any other day is ideal, chant a verse pertaining to 'Rakhsha Rekha' (drawing a line or circle for self-protection) draw a square around your seat but this couplet should also be recited for 108 times. There is no harm if such a line is not drawn around the seat.

A mantra can be sanctified by 108 recitations but recite the same mantra 108 times daily, (in the evening/morning or when convenient) until the desired end has been attained. All the verses of this epic never cause adverse impact. If you wish, you can mentally chant the verses anytime during the day whether you are walking/relaxing the more the better.

There is no harm if two verses are sanctified for two differing objects but the requisite verses ought to be sanctified separately.

Directions for ladies

All the ladies can also sanctify the desired verses and all relevant performance but, during the menstrual period, they must desist from all rituals, sanctification process, performance of sacrifice. While reciting the verses, one must have an abiding confidence in himself/herself and unshakable faith and devotion to lord Rama and also bear in mind the conviction that he will help the aspirant in attaining his/her goal. When there is complete faith and submission, there is no doubt about success.

Verses from Ramacharitmanas

1. Miraculous Protective Line (चामत्कारिक रक्षा: खा)

A protective line should be drawn around the seat (Aasan) whether a mantra is to be sanctified or when one has to pass a night at a trouble-torn spot. Such a line was drawn by Lakhshmanji around Sita's cottage and since then such a line has become a sacred practice.

He has authored over 140 books on different topics which is a valuable contribution to the ancient Indian heritage of occultism. Dr. Dwivedi has earned great name and fame in the field of Astrology and Vaastu Shastra. He has travelled extensively for the promotion of the science of Astrology and Vaastu all over the world.

In the field of predictive Astrology, he has made predictions of over 2768 events of national and international importance, all of which have proved true with the passage of time. This infact is a remarkable achievement in the field of prophesying.

YANTRA, MANTRA, TANTRA AND OCCULT SCIENCE'S mantra is a common factor in Yantra and Tantra. The Hindus, Jains, Muslims etc. practice the said disciplines in one form or the other. The subject is quite tedious and cumbersome, but the author has presented it in a simple and easy-to-understand method. He has fully explained intricacies, procedures, bottlenecks, complications alongwith warnings and cautions where needed. The readers should completely follow the given directions and cautions so as to derive the desired aims. This book, in a way, is all-in-one form, hence you do not have to strain and tax your energy. He has also given vedic experiences, Shabar Mantras, Jain and Muslim practices also.
