occurred, I offer my unconditional apology. I realize my personal limitations and alone am responsible for any shortcomings, which may come to light.

I am thankful to Mr. Narinder Sagar for his suggestions and extra efforts to get it published on Priority. I am also thankful to my friend Mr. Krishna Kumar and Col. AK Singhal for their valuable suggestions/ assistance at various stage of the work. I can never forget the contribution and inspiration of my ever enthusiastic granddaughters- Monil & Ishita Singhal, who have encouraged and helped me in computer/ internet related works for my astrological pursuits. I do hope this effort would be of interest and use to all those who find the subject engrossing. I would fail in my duties, if I do not show my gratitude towards those who have appreciated my earlier works.

Chapter-1

Basic Features of Nakshtras

Importance of Nakshtras

- 1.1 The Nakshtras are the central axis around which the Indian astrology revolves. Even the Vedas give exhaustive references to them. Their importance is universally acclaimed. The Nakshtras of the Indians, constellations/ asterism of Western countries, Manzils of the Arabs, and Sieu of the Chinese are the same in essence and system of divisions. The Nakshtra is a Sanskrit word made by combination of "Naksha" meaning to approach and "Tra" meaning to guard. Thus each Nakshtra is an abode of a god delegated with the duties of guarding and guiding the cosmic and solar evolution. Alternately some people break it up as "Naksha" or the cosmos/ zodiac and "Kshetra" or the map. Thus the Nakshtras are the map of stars of the zodiac. The importance of Nakshtras in astrology is similar to the importance of "Eyes" in human body. The planetary influences are significantly altered/ modified under the impact of the Nakshtras. It is almost impossible to understand the movements and impact of planets without correlating them with the Nakshtras.
- 1.2 The Moon which represents Mann or the mind, has a special relationship with Nakshtras. During its motion, the Moon stays in a Nakshtra for about a day. Therefore the Nakshtras are also known as lunar mansions and Moon as Nakshtradhipati. The association of Moon with different Nakshtras fundamentally alters the character of a horoscope. The very nature of the Moon becomes different in certain Nakshtras. When a planet is placed under direct radiation of a Nakshtra, the influence of
